ROOSEVELT WORD GIVES 'EM CHEER

Indiana Republican Headquarters Jubilant Over Promise to Come.

THINK IT SAVES THEM THE STATE

Sagamore Hill Sage Gives Beveridge His Word to Come Out.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 8.—Every one was happy around the republican state committee headquarters today in discussing the entry of Col. Roosevelt into the campaign this year. In fact there was little else talked about. Chairman Lee said he was more than pleased to know that Col. Roosevelt would speak in Indiana during the campaign.

"I feel that the state is going republican said Chairman Lee, "but no doubt the majority will be larger since Mr. Roosevelt is coming into the state."

If Roosevelt speaks but once it will be in Indianapolis, but the republican state committee will make an effort to have him speak at different points in the state.

IT TICKLED BEVERIDGE.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 8.—Theodore Roosevelt will, take the stump for Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, avowed insurgent and sharp critic of the Aldrich-Payne tariff law, which President Taft has declared the best ever passed.

This announcement, probably the most significant politically since the return of the former president from abroad, was made at Sagamore Hill yesterday, following a call there by the Hoosier senator.

Mr. Beveridge departed content and smiling, but he left it for the colonel to make announcement of the proposed campaign speech in the senator's behalf. And this is what Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Foulke and Mr. Swift came to Sagamore Hill last night and spent the night here. They came to request me to go to Indiana and speak in behalf of Senator Beveridge. I promised them that I would."

He added that he had agreed to make only one speech for the senator, and so far as is known now he will make only one. The time and place for this speech have not been fixed.

Day's Developments Important.

Those who have followed the political conferences at Oyster Bay since Theodore Roosevelt's return share the belief that he has been feeling his way cautiously in his attitude toward the administration and the insurgents, but yesterday's incidents are considered the most important yet developed.

Senator Beveridge is making his fight for re-election as an insurgent. He is opposed by John W. Kern, who ran with Bryan in the last campaign

In this fight the senator is placing himself squarely against President Taft insofar as the tariff law figures.

The law, which the president has defended as the best tariff measure ever enacted, is denounced without equivocation by the senator, and the same republican state convention which indorsed Beveridge for another term, virtually repudiated the law.

In the senate Beveridge fought the bill to the last, and then voted against it.

Taft and Beveridge Close.

It is pointed out, however, that with this exception President Taft and the senator from Indiana have been pulling together, as far as administration policies are concerned. There has been no break between them.

The president intrusted to the senator the conduct of two administration measures at the last session of congress—the statehood bill and the Alaska government bill.

And although the senator worked faithfully with the insurgent band in the senate and had a hand in the alteration of President Taft's railroad bill, he supported the administration regularly in the last session, when the votes were taken.

Sagamore Hill was fairly swarming all day with men of various political persuasion. They came by train and by automobile. They talked politics all day long, but as they left town they were unanimously reticent when asked to tell what they knew. Consequently, Oyster Bay is enveloped in an atmosphere of deep mystery.

Visitors From Four States.

There were three Indianians among the visitors. Besides Senator Beveridge, they were William Dudley Foulke and Lucius B. Swift, of Indianapolis.

Three came from New Hampshire—Winston Churchill, the novelist; John Bass, war correspondent, and his brother, Robert R. Bass, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

WOMAN AVIATOR MORTALLY HURT

Baroness De Laroche Loses Her Head and Machine Drops to Earth.

TOOK FRIGHT AT A RUSH OF AIR

Was First French Woman to Fly—Second Fatality at Rheims.

Betheny Plain, Rheims, July 8.—Baroness De Laroche, the first French woman aeroplanist, was fatally injured here this afternoon by falling from a height of fifty meters.

The Baroness De Laroche had flown around the field once at a height of eighty meters when suddenly in front of the applauding tribunes she appeared to become frightened and confused at the approach of two other aeroplanes.

Loses Control of Machine.

She started to descend, but while still fifty meters from the ground lost control of the machine. The aeroplane turned over and fell like a log. The baroness' legs and arms were broken. Her mangled and bloody body was removed from the wreckage and conveyed to the hospital, where she is dying.

At the hospital it was found that her skull was fractured. This is the second fatal accident at this meet, Aviator Wachter having been killed last Friday.

The performances of Baroness De Laroche on a Voisin machine have been much talked of in Paris. This accident, which resulted in her fatal injuries, was not her first mishap.

Injured Once Before.

On January 4 last she was seriously injured at the Chalons aviation field. In circling the course with her bi-plane she made a wide turn and crashed into a tree being, unable to elevate her machine quickly enough to dodge it. She fell from a height of twenty feet and was taken to the military hospital unconscious. Her right shoulder was dislocated and internal injuries were feared, but she recovered soon. In February last the Aero club gave the baroness an air pilot's license for her feat in flying four times around the aviation course and Heliopolis, a distance of twelve miles.

Pioneer in Aviation.

The baroness was one of the pioneers of aviation. She had also driven motor boats in races and automobiles at exhibitions and as soon as flying became practicable she learned to manage the planes. There are several other women aviators in Paris.

While momentarily conscious the baroness explained that the rush of air from a motor passing over her head had frightened her, whereupon she cut the ignition and lost control of her machine.

Two aviators broke the records for 150 kilometers at the meeting here today. Hubert Latham covered the distance in 2 hours, 1 minute and 6 seconds and afterward the Belgian, Olieslager, did it in 1 hour, 58 minutes and 20 seconds.

The doctors later, after a careful examination, declared that the baroness' skull was not fractured and that she may live.

WAR AGAINST WEEDS WILL NOW GET STRENUOUS

Health Department Prepares to File Long List of Affidavits.

The city health department announces that it is about to begin legal action against Fort Wayne property-owners and occupants who neglect to keep their premises free from weeds, and the department will at once file half a score of affidavits as the start of a campaign that promises to be strenuous.

"Four hundred to five hundred notices have been served upon property-owners," said Dr. E. A. Crull, secretary of the city health board today, "and but very few people have paid the slightest attention to them. This means that we will have to adopt more rigorous measures to accomplish the clean-up, and that a lot of arrests will undoubtedly follow."

About the City Hall.

Clerical work in the office of the board of public works has grown so heavy that in all probability an assistant will be appointed to Clerk Henry Becker.

Mrs. Wells, 1806 Oliver street, has reported to the police that a shopping bag was stolen from her automobile as it stood on South Harrison street yesterday. The bag contained a small purse holding a $10 bill and some small change.

FATHER OF TWENTY-NINE DIES.

New Albany, Ind., July 8.—James C. Milesy, aged 83, died yesterday at Corydon. He was the father of twenty-nine children, fifteen of whom are living. He is survived by his third wife.

COPPER STOCKS INCREASE.

New York, July 8.—Copper stocks on hand July 1 increased 7,960,044 pounds as compared with June 1, according to the monthly statement of the Copper Producers' association issued here today.

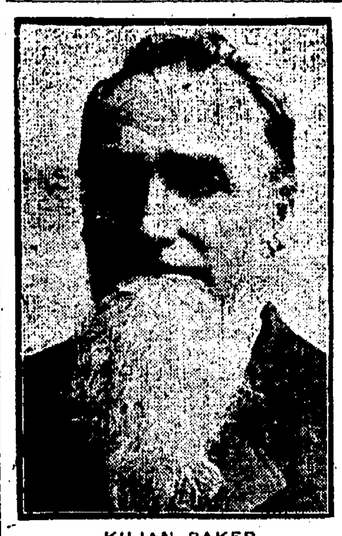
KILIAN BAKER WAS A PIONEER HERE IN LUMBER

After Long Illness, He Dies at Home, at Age of Nearly Eighty Years.

The death of Kilian Baker, a pioneer in the lumber business of this city, occurred this morning at 1:40 o'clock at his home at 326 East Main street. Mr. Baker would have been 80 years of age next December. In 1848 he embarked in the lumber business here and continued in that vocation until his retirement seven years ago.



KILIAN BAKER,
Pioneer and Long a Lumber Dealer Here, Who Is Dead.

The health of the deceased for the past four or five years has been very poor. Three years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time he had been an invalid. He had been unable to leave his home and when his condition grew more serious three or four days ago his demise was expected at any moment.

Aside from figuring for so many years as a prominent business character in the city's affairs, Mr. Baker was always one of its most esteemed citizens. He came of a sturdy, upright family which has always been a prominent factor wherever it has located. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, to whom the son Kilian was born in Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, on the 15th of December, 1830. Five years later the family, consisting of eight children, emigrated and settled first in Pittsburg. In the following year, 1836, the father came to Allen county and entered a piece of land in Cedar Creek township, removing his family in the spring of 1838 to Fort Wayne, then a village of about 400 population. The father worked at the wagonmaker's trade for a number of years, and in 1848 associated with his four sons, John, Jacob, Henry and Kilian, in establishing a lumber yard at the corner of what is now Superior and Lafayette streets. The father and other sons sold out their shares and in 1878 Kilian Baker became the sole proprietor. He managed the mill until his retirement in 1903.

Kilian Baker grew up with the city. When he first began working with his father he was but eighteen years old, but he soon became recognized as a leader. He took great interest in many of the movements inaugurated during the early years of the history of Fort Wayne to permit it to grow. As year by year more people began settling in the district about here, Kilian Baker foresaw what he believed to be a great city, and he induced a great many to come to Fort Wayne and live. And during the later years of his life the deceased was fond of relating stories and incidents of the early history—how the village advanced from its population of less than a thousand to a town of several thousand, and then of the city's rapid growth within the past thirty years. During all these years he devoted his life to his business and to the welfare of the community in which he achieved a high standing.

Kilian Baker was educated in the Catholic schools. He was married in 1859 to Miss Anna Daugherty, who was born in Arcola, this county, of Irish parents, and to this union eleven children were born, nine of whom survive. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have always been members of the Catholic church, and Mrs. Baker is still an attendant there.

Those of the children who are living are: John G. Baker, Brownwood, Mo.; Mrs. L. F. Blee, Philadelphia; Mrs. W. B. Gordon, Peoria, Ill.; Frank J. Baker, of Cotton Plant, Ark.; Sister Euphraise, of the Sisters of Providence, St. Mary's-of-the-Woods, and Mrs. Henry J. Taylor, Alfred K. Baker and the Misses Rosella M. Baker and Grace A. Baker, of Fort Wayne.

WHATEVER HE DOES WILL BE ALL FOR THE BEST

Secretary Ballinger Has a Bit of Blarney for Roosevelt.

Chicago, July 8.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, who arrived here today on a tour of inspection of public lands, was asked if he credited the report that Theodore Roosevelt will support the senatorial candidacy of Congressman Poindexter, of Washington.

"I don't know what the attitude of Mr. Roosevelt will be," he answered, "but I do know that any action he takes will be one that he is convinced is for the good of the country and that he will go through with it as earnestly as he has everything in the past."

As to Poindexter policies the secretary said: "If they are not socialistic I don't know what they are."

BUSY DAY FOR COLONEL.

Oyster Bay, July 8.—Theodore Roosevelt was hard at work early today. He said he expected no political visitors today, but as he still has thousands of letters to be answered, as well as the editorial work to attend to, he was not in want of wor kto do. It is probable that there will be no further important political conferences at Sagamore Hill until next Tuesday, when Governor Hughes is to come.

GRAFT PROBERS TO ORGANIZE FOR INQUIRY

New York, July 8.—To probe the truth of the charges of legislative corruption, the outgrowth of the Allds trial at Albany and the Hotchkiss insurance investigation here, the members of the legislative special commission gathered here today to organize, select counsel and map out a program for their investigation.

It had been semi-officially announced that M. Linn Bruce, former lieutenant governor and justice of the supreme court was to be named counsel for the committee and confirmation of this appointment was looked for. Otherwise the action of the day was not indicated. It is probable that the work of the commission will continue the greater part of the summer. The commission consists of three senators and five assemblyman. An appropriation of $50,000 is available for the purpose of the inquiry.

BURKE TAKES MANDA WITH TEAM TO WHEELING

Leaves Donahue to Replace Player Loaned to Zanesville.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Zanesville, O., July 8.—Fort Wayne has recalled Carl Manda, the infielder loaned earlier in the season to Zanesville, and Manda will be with Burke's team when it leaves this city tonight to begin the series at Wheeling. Donahue will be left in Zanesville in place of Manda.

Zanesville was allowed the use of Manda's services some weeks ago because the Fort Wayne team had an overplus of infield talent, and he has been making an excellent record at second for the Potters. Now in the hope of breaking away from the slump into which the Fort Wayne team has fallen during the past week or two, Burke determined today to play Manda and loan Donahue to Zanesville.

BUYS PITCHER OBERLIN.

Indianapolis Gets Services of Former Fort Wayne Hurler.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 8.—Announcement was made here today that President Watkins, of the Indianapolis American association ball club had purchased Pitcher Oberlin of the Washington American league club and Pitcher Bridges, of the Clarksville, Tenn., Kitty league club.

GOES TO HIGHER COURT.

New York, July 8.—While Arthur Devlin, third baseman of the New York National league team was on his way with his team to Chicago today the case against him for an alleged assault on a spectator in the grandstand during a recent New York-Brooklyn game, came up in police court in Brooklyn. Devlin's counsel told the court that his client would waive examination and Magistrate Naumer accordingly held Devlin to await the trial in the court of special sessions, his bond of $50 being continued.

Roesler, the complainant, who declares Devlin hit him in the face after another man in the stand had called the ball player harsh names, said he would appear against Devlin in the higher court. Devlin was suspended by President Lynch following the affray in Brooklyn and later was reinstated.

PURE FOOD LAW IS BOOSTING HIGH PRICES

New Reason Advanced for the Present Cost of Living.

Washington, July 8.—"The congressional committee on the cost of living recently detailed fifteen reasons for the high cost of living and yet one of the most important reasons for high prices was left out of their report," remarked Solicitor McCabe, of the department of agriculture today.

"The execution of the pure food law undoubtedly had an important effect upon prices. Formerly resort was had to adulteration and misbranding to reduce the price of alleged articles. Now, people buy raspberry jam, for instance, and pay more for it but they get what they pay for. So it is with many other articles in common use. This increase in price of course is only apparent but it impresses the people who make purchases as real."

FLYING OVER THE OCEAN NEW SPORT

Bird Men Having Good Time With Aeroplane at Atlantic City.

DRIVE OUT OVER THE DEEP BLUE

Boy Brookins Will Try for a New Record at High Flying.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 8.—Glenn H. Curtiss made a ten minute exhibition flight here before noon today, covering eight miles along the board walk.

He left the ground at 10:20 o'clock near one of the ocean piers in the central section of the city, swung up to the inlet over the five mile course and then after a beautiful turn shaped his course down the board walk to Ventnor.

Returning up the board walk he made a perfect landing at the starting point. Signals that Curtiss would go aloft were set at 9 o'clock and a great crowd was on the beach and board walk to see the flight.

Aviator Brookins, in a Wright biplane, failed in his first attempt to leave the ground a half hour after Curtiss made his flight.

Brookins Gets Up.

At noon Brookins made another attempt to go aloft, and this time succeeded. He was followed a few moments later by Curtiss in his swift machine, and both gave an exhibition of fancy flying over the ocean, board walk and beach that brought cheers from the spectators.

Brookins almost turned his machine on its ends, making short circles in little over 100 feet between the two big ocean piers. Curtiss first swung out to sea and then drove in until he was only a few yards above the beach where he dared and swung in shape rises and drops.

Brookins was in the air about ten minutes and Curtiss was up about five minutes. Both aviators declared the air currents perfect for flying and announced their intention of making trials for the altitude record later. It also is expected they will make at least a portion of the circuit of the fifty-mile speed race course laid out.

Will Attack Records.

Promises that attacks would be made today on the speed and altitude records by the aeroplanists now in this city, partly made up for the disappointment caused yesterday by the failure of Curtiss to go aloft owing to unfavorable weather conditions. Curtiss and Aviators Brookins and Coffyn, who arrived yesterday with their Wright biplanes were astir early tinkering with their machines and at the same time keeping an eye on the wind. With favorable conditions the aviators will today try to win the $5,000 offered for the speed contest over a course that covers part of the beach and sea front and will also go after the $5,000 to be given for the one that exceeds the altitude record.

It is possible that the three aviators may be aloft at the same time.

There was the usual big crowd on the board walk and the beach during the morning watching the signals in the hope of seeing the aeroplanists go into the air.

Platform of Roman Catholics Enunciated by Archbishop Glennon.

Detroit, July 8.—"The Catholic does not build his schools to fight protestantism. He has no fight with people of other faiths," declared Right Rev. John Joseph Glennon, archibshop of St. Louis, in an address last night before the National Catholic Education association. His subject was "The Home and the School."

"The Catholic wants no state church. He is opposed to it.

"The Catholic will never demand one cent from the state to help in Catholic propaganda or as recompense for teaching Catholic doctrine.

"The Catholic expects that for secular teaching the state, if it pays for any should pay for all."

The convention closed last night.

MIDDIES AT MARSEILLES.

Marseilles, July 8.—The naval academy practice squadron consisting of the battleships Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts, with five hundred midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis, arrived in the harbor today from Plymouth. The usual salutes with the shore batteries were exchanged. The squadron will be anchored here until the 15th.

Santiago, Chile, July 8.—President Montt, who has been suffering from angina pectoris, will go to Europe to recuperate, leaving Elias Fernandez here at the head of the government.

MOB HOWLS FOR SLUETH'S LIFE

"Dry" Detective Kills a Man at Newark, Ohio Following Raid.

VAST MOB JOINS IN HIS PURSUIT

Newark, Ohio, July 8.—William Howard, a former policeman, is dying from a pistol shot wound inflicted by an unknown "dry" detective and the county jail is surrounded by a mob o fone thousand men and women shouting for the lynching of the unknown detective, who was chased for blocks and brought to the jail by an excited crowd of 500 men after the shooting of Howard.

Today a gang of alleged detectives from Columbus and Cleveland arrived in the city and raided three soft drink saloons. They said they were working in the interest of the Anti-Saloon league. The saloons raided were those of Charles Henry, Louis Bolton and E. Schlegel. During the raid on the Schlegel saloon a detective hit Bar Tender Ed McKenna and severely injured him and a crowd quickly gathered. The detective escaped, but the crowd was augmented and when Howard tried to arrest Detective James Henderson he was shot by an unknown man. Licking county, of which Newark is the county seat, is "dry" and a number of alleged "soft" drink places have been running in the city. James Henderson, a "dry" detective, was severely beaten by th emob and Ed Hale, chief of the "dry" detective force, was roughly handled.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the mob began to disperse at the earnest appeals of Mayor Atherton.

Shooting Was Cowardly.

A man giving the name of C. M. Ethrington, of Willisburg, Ky., was arrested late this afternoon and charged with the shooting of Howard.

Two of the detectives escaped from the crowd and a mob of 500 men is now after them. They were last seen out on the Gransville road.

The shooting of Howard was most cowardly. He walked up to one of the "detectives" and putting his arm about him said:

"I knew you were coming."

The man without a word pulled a gun and shot him through the stomach.

FAVOR PURCHASE OF AUTO POLICE PATROL

Committee Will Recommend Expenditure of $2,000 for the Purpose.

If the city council approves the recommendation of its finance committee and the board of public safety, an auto patrol will soon replace the present patrol wagons in the Fort Wayne police department.

Decision to recommend the purchase of an auto patrol at a cost of $2,000 was reached at a conference Thursday evening between the finance committee of the council, of which Councilman L. S. C. Schroeder is chairman, and members of the board of public safety. The board had asked for authority to sell the team of horses now in use on the police patrol and to purchase a better team for the same purpose, but the committee did not fall in with the idea.

Instead, the belief was expressed that an auto patrol should be provided, and the committee decided to recommend that the city council appropriate $2,000 for its purchase. Mayor Grice holds that even if the motor-driven police wagon is purchased, it will still be necessary for the city to keep a team of horses for patrol wagon use in unpaved portions of the city at seasons of the year when streets are in bad condition.

CLEAR FIELD FOR FRANK POSEY

Will Be Nominated for Congress in First District.

Evansville, Ind., July 8.—Charles W. Wittenbraker, former prosecuting attorney for this city, has withdrawn from the race for the republican nomination for congress from the first Indiana district. His withdrawal leaves a clear fiel din Vanderburg county to former Congressman Frank B. Posey, of this city.

The nominating convention will be held at Boonville on Thursday, July 14. John W. Brady, of Princeton, says he will remain in the race to a finish. He says he will have a solid delegation from Gibson county and scattering votes from Pike, Posey and Warrick counties.

AGED PHYSICAN IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Dr. G. W. Bowen Passes Away at Advanced Age —Other Deaths.

Dr. George W. Bowen, after a residence in this city of fifty-eight years, responded to the death summons Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Oliver Blystone, 638 Third street. Dr. Bowen was eighty-four years of age and his demise resulted from the infirmities of old age.

Dr. Bowen was a well known and highly respected physician, who practiced in Fort Wayne continuously since 1852, until two years ago, when he became partially blind. During his active career, he occupied an enviable position in the professional ranks, among other things having been president of the Indiana Institute of Homeopathy, and member of the American Institute and Western Academy of Homeopathy. Not only in a medical way, but in literary attainments was he distinguished, many of his published poetical works having attracted attention far and wide. Dr. Bowen had been a member of the First Presbyterian church for over thirty-five years.

DR. GEORGE W. BOWEN, Aged Physician Who is Summoned by Death.

The deceased was a native of Delaware county, New York, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bowen. With his parents he came west in 1836, settling first in Monroe county, Mich., and then in Wells county, Ill. Four years later he became a resident of Chicago, holding a clerkship in the postoffice for two years. At that time he became interested in medicine and later graduated from the Hahnemann Medical college of that city. H calso attended the Cleveland Medical college. After practicing for a few years in Chicago he came to this city.

The deceased came of a family of great longevity. His parents were married in 1803, and it was seventy-two years before death severed the marital bonds. At death his father's age was 95 years and the mother reached the age of 90.

Dr. Bowen married America J. Welsheimer, of Ohio, in 1860. Her death occurred six years ago. There were no children, but an adopted daughter, Mrs. Katherine Rarick survives. Two nephews and two nieces are living—William Bowen, of Des Moines, Iowa; Albert Bowen, of Washington state; Mrs. Henrietta Lutton and Mrs. Alla Hobson, of Clifton, Ill.

According to arrangements previously made by the deceased, the funeral will take place from the Peltier undertaking rooms Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

KREUTZER.

The remains of Arthur Kreutzer, aged 26 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kreutzer, 923 Erie street, will arrive in the city Saturday morning at 5 o'clock over the Pennsylvania. His death occurred Thursday evening at his home in New York, where he had been head bookkeeper in the National Biscuit company's plant for the past year. The demise was very sudden. Early Thursday morning the parents here received a telegram from their son's wife telling of his serious illness from peritonitis. The telegram announcing the death came in the evening.

Mr. Kreutzer was born in Chicago on the 12th of December, 1884. Later the family moved here and the son was educated in the Catholic parochial schools in this city. He also completed a business course. For a short time he worked in a local business office, then removed to Chicago to take employment with the National Biscuit company. About a year ago he was transferred to that company's New York office.

Funeral services from the home of the parents. Announcement will be made later.

Mrs. Wirsche had lived in Fort Wayne only four weeks, having removed here with her husband from Crawfordsville. There are no children, but three sisters survive—Mrs. Henry Anderson, of Bremen, Ind., and Mrs. John Stitzel and Mrs. C. L. Harding, of Indianapolis.

The remains will be shipped tomorrow to Crawfordsville, where interment will take place.

HEADS BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE.

Dr. Williamson, of St. Louis, Elected President of Society.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 8.—Rev. Dr. W. G. Williamson, of St. Louis, was elected president of the Baptist Young People's union of America at today's session of the convention. Philadelphia was recommended for the convention in 1911. A proposition to unify the young people's societies was introduced, but action was deferred until the sentiment of other Baptist organizations can be learned.

CITY CONTRACT FOR WATER METERS IS VALID

Judge Heaton Denies Application for Injunction —The Courts.

Judge Heaton in the superior court late Thursday afternoon handed down a finding in which the contract made by the board of public works of the city of Fort Wayne for the purchase of water meters is held valid, and the court denied the application for an injunction to restrain the fulfilment of the contract.

This is the case in which a rival meter concern, using the name of a Fort Wayne tax-payer, sought to restrain the city from making the purchase of a large quantity of water meters from the Pittsburg Water Meter company at stipulated intervals set forth in the contract. The complaint set up the claim that the contract was invalid and that no funds were available with which to make payment for the meters. The court held the contract valid and denied the application for injunction. Evidence was heard and the case was argued before the court some weeks ago.

Minor News in the Courts.

Auguste Brososke has qualified as administratrix of the estate of Martin Brososke.

Fort Wayne attorneys have accepted a challenge for a game of baseball with South Bend legal lights, and are arranging a team of world-beaters to meet the South Bend contingent.

The case of Jacob Funk vs. Lindley J. Baldwin and others in the superior court was dismissed.

The board of county commissioners was in session this afternoon to take up the drainage petition of E. W. Dodez and others for the construction of a ditch in Wayne township west of the city. The Nickel Plate railroad has filed a remonstrance against the project.

LAWYER LOBBYISTS GRILLED BY THE GOVERNOR

Marshall Addresses State Bar Meeting—Ketcham Heads Association.

Indianapolis, July 8.—That it is the business of the lawyer to practice law and not to spend his time around legislatures trying to "fix" members was the declaration of Governor Marshall last night in a speech before the State Bar Association of Indiana at its fourteenth annual banquet at the Denison hotel. Lobbying was denounced in vigorous terms by the governor, who spoke on "The Old-Fashioned Lawyer."

"The lawyer is an officer of the court as much as the judge," said the governor. "His function consists in giving honest advice and presenting honest cases in an honest way before the court. He has no right to attach himself to anybody's interests whereby it is sought to defraud the court by concealing the facts or in any manner trying to fool the court.

"Nor is it his business to come around the legislature and get men off in one corner and try to persuade or bribe them to cast their vote in the interests of anyone. I have heard it said that lawyers have taken fees from a corporation or other client, and with this money jingling in their pockets have gone to the legislatures and spent their time and their talents in inducing men to cast votes favorable to certain measures."

That lawyers' fees today would astound Daniel Webster, a circumstance which makes it all the more reprehensible for an attorney to take advantage of illegitimate opportunities to increase his earnings, was the theme of an address delivered before the State Bar association yesterday by George A. Cunningham, Evansville.

Mr. Cunningham's address was the final one of several given by prominent attorneys. He urged lawyers to preserve the simplicity of their lives and to avoid the scramble for money, making the amount earned legitimately serve their needs.

The convention closed its two days' session with the election of the following officers:

President—William A. Ketcham, Indianapolis.

Vice President—Thomas E. Davidson, Greensburg.

Secretary—George H. Batchelor, Indianapolis.

Treasurer—Frank E. Gavin, Indianapolis.

Berlin, July 8.—The provincial court, which is hearing the case of Rudolph Francke against Commander Peary to recover $10,000, today ordered Francke to produce Dr. Frederick A. Cook as a witness. Francke, who was associated with Dr. Cook in the north point expedition, demands $10,000 in return for a collection of furs, walrus and narwhal teeth, which he alleges Peary required him to surrender in consideration of taking him back home from Etah.

FINDS STREET OPEN WHEN IT CAME TO KICK

Council Committee Mixes in Lively Clash With the Board of Works.

When the council committee on track elevation mixed in a lively colloquy with the board of public works last evening over the question of obstructed streets during the work of track elevation, it developed that the Calhoun street crossing had been open to pedestrians for several hours. The fact that the crossing was open, however, did not prevent a spirited interchange of views between the board and councilmanic committee.

The conference with the board of works followed a special meeting of the city council called to consider the question of street crossing openings. Eleven members responded to the roll call—Bauer, Welch, Rogge, Dittoe, Braun, Schroeder, Kinder, Haller, Wagner, Pfleger and Sweringen. Discussion developed the fact that the councilmen believe the railroads should leave a passageway open to pedestrians at all times; that the council is not being given sufficient consideration in the work of track elevation; that the closing of Calhoun street was unnecessary at this time, and that it was the result of poor engineering plans.

Adopted a Resolution.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution bearing the signatures of Councilmen Bauer, Schroeder, Rogge, Welch and Haller, setting forth the fact that the elevation work at Calhoun street is occasioning unnecessary inconvenience to the public in the way of street obstruction; that arrangements can be and ought to be made to provide crossings at other near-by streets, and that for failure to do this the council is being severely criticised. The resolution authorized the president of the council to appoint a committee to investigate and co-operate with the mayor and the board of works in providing crossings over the Pennsylvania and the Wabash railroads at Calhoun or Clinton streets during the progress of the work of track elevation; to meet with the railroad authorities, and if such arrangement cannot be consummated by agreement, that such further steps be taken as will enforce the rule.

Went Before Board.

The resolution went to the council's track elevation committee, composed of Messrs. Braun, Felger, Welch, Van Sweringen and Wagner, and the committee at once descended upon the board of public works which was then in session, and President Rogge accompanied the councilmen.

The discussion which followed was at times both heated and vigorous, Councilman Wagner leading in training a battery of interrogations upon the board. The upshot of an hour's conference was the declaration that the board is using every attempt to facilitate the work of track elevation with the least possible inconvenience to the public, and that so far as is possible passageways will be left open at the crossings for public use in the interim. The board, however, made no attempt to conceal its belief that the action of the council was uncalled for, and it pointed out that in a work of such magnitude, with railroads, contractors and sub-contractors to deal with, and with unexpected contingencies constantly arising, some inconvenience is unavoidable.

City officials stated today that it is fully expected to begin the city's portion of the work of excavation at Calhoun street early next week. It is believed that all the tracks of both the Wabash and the Pennsylvania company at this point can be up in six weeks.

The city will have to remove 3,500 cubic yards of earth on the south side of the Wabash tracks and 2,100 square yards on the north side of the Pennsylvania tracks at Calhoun street.

there was United States Senator Thomas H. Carter.

Col. Roosevelt appeared to be well pleased with the result of the day's work of talking politics, which began almost as soon as he was up and lasted well through the afternoon. To interviewers, however, he would say little concerning the conference except that he had promised to make one speech for Mr. Beveridge.

Insurgent Rally Not Forstold.

Those who sought to interpret the day as a general insurgent rally looking toward the shaping of Col. Roosevelt's future attitude were left in the dark. And as an indication that this was not the case, there was the presence of Senator Carter, a man who in the past steadily has opposed insurgency.

Senator Beveridge spent only a few hours at Sagamore Hill, and it was evident that the press of other visitors and a dinner engagement in New York that necessitated an early return gave him less time than he wished to discuss the political situation in Indiana with his host.

"I have no doubt that Mr. Roosevelt will give out anything that he wishes to become public about our interview," said Mr. Beveridge. "I gave my views on the Indiana situation fully in a formal statement several days ago."

"Did you come away pleased with the results of your talk?"

The senator's smile broadened until he laughed aloud.

Beveridge Happy After Talk.

"Well," he said, "I have had many talks with Mr. Roosevelt in the last few years, but never in my experience have I had one more satisfactory than today's talk."

Further than this Senator Beveridge would not go.

"I start on my vacation tomorrow," he added, "and it is needless to say that I go in a happy frame of mind."

Senator Beveridge said he came to Oyster Bay by appointment and that his visit had nothing to do wth that of the other visitors here today.

"I found Col. Roosevelt," he declared, "more alive and more interested in things than ever."

Winston Churchill was as careful as Senator Beveridge to keep back any specific information as to the conversation between Col. Roosevelt, the Bass brothers and himself.

Col. Roosevelt has been interested in the fight in New Hampshire since it began in 1906, when I ran for governor," said he.

PRESSES ANTI-OPIUM WAR.

Bishop Brent of Philippines at Work on British Government.

London, July 8.—Bishop Charles H. Brent, of the Episcopal church in the Philippines, a delegate to the world's missionary conference at Edinburg, is endeavoring to secure the consent of the British government to the opium conference at The Hague, proposed by the state department to give effect to the decisions reached by the Shanghai conference. Accompanied by Ambassador Reid the bishop today interviewed Premier Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, the minister for foreign affairs, and Lord Morley, the secretary for India. While not unwilling to go into another conference the India government for economic reasons is not prepared to go as far as the reformers desire in the matter of increasing the reduction of the production of opium. Bishop Brent is hopeful that an amicable arrangement may be reached.

Foreign Recognition of Commander Peary's Achievement

His Tour of Europe an Occasion of Enthusiastic Ovations—American Bravery and Persistence Honored by Scientists and Royalty.

GOLD MEDAL OF THE ROYAL BRITISH GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
GOLD MEDAL OF THE ROYAL BELGIAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
GOLD MEDAL OF THE IMPERIAL GERMAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF BERLIN
SILVER SHIP PRESENTED BY THE ROYAL SCOTTISH GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
VON HAUER SILVER MEDAL, HIGHEST AWARD OF THE AUSTRIAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
GOLD MEDAL OF THE ROYAL ITALIAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
GOLD MEDAL OF THE ROYAL GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF ANTWERP
GOLD MEDAL OF THE HUNGARIAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

No American, perhaps, ever returned to his native shores, after a tour abroad, loaded with so many honors bestowed by great scientific societies as Commander Robert E. Peary. When he landed in New York a few days ago (June 17) he brought with him six gold medals and one silver medal—the highest honors of the most distinguished foreign scientific bodies—and the silver model of a ship presented to him by the Royal Scottish Geographical society. Hailing him as the discoverer of the north pole, thus Europe, in ironic contrast to his native country, officially put its seal of approval upon Peary's feat.

Commander Peary's whirlwind visit to the leading foreign cities was the occasion of a series of widly demonstrative ovations. In his person the distinguished authorities in law, science and literature of foreign nations recognized American pluck, persistence and successful achievement, and accepted the verdict of the National Geographical society of his own country, which passed upon his proofs and awarded him a medal on November 3, 1909.

During his trip abroad Peary told the story of his quest twice in London and Berlin and once in Rome, Vienna, Budapest, Brussels, Antwerp, Edinburg, Glasgow, Cardiff, Bristol and Manchester. While in Edinburg Peary was presented by the Royal Scottish Geographical society with an exquisitely chased silver ship. The model, which is of the type of the vessel used in the latter part of the sixteenth century, stands two feet high and weighs 100 ounces. It is three masted and under full sail. Gold medals, hailing him as the discoverer of the north pole, were presented to him by the Hungarian Geographical society, the Royal Italian Georgraphical society, the Royal Geographical society of Antwerp, the Imperial German Geographical society of Berlin, the Royal British Geographical society, the Royal Belgian Geographical society and the Austrian Geographical society, which gave him the von Hauer medal, its highest award. In contrast to his own country, which refused him national honors because he had not publicly submitted proofs, being prevented from doing so by a contract with Hampton's Magazine, which is printing his story, these foreign countries offered honors without question and with an implicit confidence in Peary's claim.

With 10,000 persons frantically cheering him Commander Peary received the most enthusiastic ovation in Prince Albert hall, London, when he delivered a lecture under the auspices of the Royal Geographical society. On the platform, with rows of decorations on their breasts, were more than one hundred of Great Britain's most distinguished men. The late King Edward would have attended had he not been stricken with his fatal illness. In welcoming him Major Leonard Darwin, president of the society, said:

"I stand here tonight, as representative of the Royal Geographical society and armed with the full authority of its council, to welcome you, Commander Peary, as the first and only human being who has ever led a party of his fellow creatures to a pole of the earth."

A vote of thanks to Commander Peary was proposed by Sir George Nares and seconded by Sir Lewis Beaumont.

Among the distinguished audience which greeted Peary in Rome were King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, the duke of the Abruzzi, the marquis di San Giuliano, minister of foreign affairs, and the Marquis Capelli.

"In contrast to the action of European nations," says Hampton's Magazine, editorially, "the country of his birth and life-long allegiance, for whose glory he has walked for years hand in hand with death, whose flag he unfurled at the top of the earth, seems niggardly in paying honor to Peary. Scientific bodies, rulers, municipalities of foreign lands have united in crowning Peary wth the laurels that are his due. As the final conqueror of the fastnesses of the north; as the explorer who in his own person, by dint of toil, tenacity, fearlessness and invincible purpose, has won against odds which for three hundred years have vanquished brave and distinguished explorers; as the man who has again proved man's power to conquer the hostile forces of nature, these great European bodies have felt that in honoring Peary they have honored themselves. The highest authorities in the world have bestowed on him the greatest gifts in their power."

In the July number of Hampton's Peary for the first time begins to present his proofs. These will be continued in the August number, which will shortly be published. These proofs consist of minutely detailed descriptions of scientific observations made by Peary and other members of his party, and a detailed day-by-day account of his progress, system of marches, organization and supplies. Without mentioning the name of Dr. Cook, Peary makes it plain in his narrative that without his extensive supplies, supporting parties and system of marching, it would be impossible for a single white man to make his way over the perilous Polar ice and overcome almost insuperable obstacles to the pole.

The installment of Commander Peary's story in the July Hampton's takes him and his party up to 87 degrees, 12 minutes, which was beyond his previous farthest north. Up to March 22nd, because of the slight altitude of the sun, no observations had been taken. On that day Peary ordered the Eskimos to build a wind shelter, behind which Marvin took a meridan altitude. The result of these first observations, Peary says, gave their position as approximately 85 degrees, 48 minutes north latitude. Peary's plan was to have Marvin take all observations up to the point where he turned back, and Bartlett take them from that point to his farthest north. This was done in order to save the explorer's eyes and to have independent observations with which to check the route. In the forthcoming installment in the August number of Hampton's Commander Peary will tell of his dash to the pole, describe the boreal center and tell his sensations at the point where everything is south.

WOOL MARKET SLUMP.

Declining Prices Puts Boston in Position of Exporter.

Boston, July 8.—As a result of the steadily declining prices for wool in the American market, Boston wool dealers have not only stopped large quantities of wool in transit from Australia and sold them in London, but more recently this city has assumed the unusual position of actually being a wool exporter. It is estimated that about 1,700,000 pounds of foreign wool held in bond have recently been reshipped to London to be sold at auction.

For the entire six months of this year Boston has exported 3,550,000 pounds of wool as against the nominal amount of 170,000 pounds for the same period of last year.

These figures, however, represent very inadequately the wool which has bee ntaken out of the Boston market owing to the depression in the American textile industry.

COMFORTING TO NERVOUS WOMEN

Is This Statement of a Thorough Cure After Ten Years of Suffering Such as Many Women Know.

If every pale, weak, nervous woman who reads these lines would try the remedy that cured Mrs. F. H. Morse there would be far less suffering, fewer children born to a heritage of weak nerves, fewer unhappy homes.

Weak nerves mean irritableness, hysteria, headaches, melancholia, perhaps insanity. Build up the nerves by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, at the same time toning up the general health and you will see an increasing appetite, a happier disposition, a lighter step, freedom from lassitude, a return to sound and refreshing sleep.

The cure of Mrs. F. H. Morse, of Whitehall, Mich., should encourage every nervous sufferer to try this blood and nerve tonic. She says:

"From the time I was sixteen years old until I was twenty-six, I never knew a well day. The breakdown was gradual at first and was due to overwork. I was sick all over and suffered intensely from stomach and intestinal trouble. Food distressed me, did not digest and there was a full feeling in my stomach. My heart was weak and fluttered, my blood was thin and I could get no strength from the food I ate. I had insomnia and did not know for years what a good night's sleep was. My limbs and head pained me badly. I was extremely nervous and so weak that I could not help myself.

"I doctored for some years but did not get any better and was finally given up as incurable. A friend told me that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had benefited her wonderfully and urged me to try them. After taking a few boxes I was satisfied that the pills were helping me and my improvement was gradual until I was cured. I am now doing all of my household work and am strong and healthy. I gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they are an excellent medicine."

If you are interested in the treatment of nervous troubles with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, send for our free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

RAFINS PLAGUE FRANCE.

Daily for Six Weeks There Has Been Precipitation.

Paris, July 8.—Continuous cold weather is beginning to cause serious alarm. There has been daily rain for six weeks, and the precipitation since the first of January has already exceeded the average annual rain fall. A recurrence of floods is threatened. Many streams are full and some are out of their banks. The grape crop is suffering heavily and mild weather has made its apeparance in the champagne district. The hay crop is almost destroyed.

Meterologists attribute the rain fall to continuous hot westerly winds from America, which absorb moisture in crossinf the gulf stream that is precipitated as soon as it comes in contact with the cold land of the continent.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The quarterly meeting of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ will be held next Monday evening, at which time the finances of the church will not be among the subjects discussed. There will be music and speeches and the pastor will conduct a conference on the work for the coming autumn and winter, especially with reference to the great evangelistic campaign for late in the autumn. Refreshments will be served and a general good time is expected.

BETHEL EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Owing to the death of a relative of Rev. Wise, presiding elder of the Evangelical churches, there will be no service at the Bethel church this evening. The second quarterly meetings were to begin this evening, but instead the first meeting will be held next week. The regular communion service on Sunday will be held, however.

Will Not Leave Indiana.

Among the well known Methodist ministers of northern Indiana is Rev. Dr. L. J. Naftzger, former pastor of the High Street M. E. church at Muncie, now stationed at Greenfield, who this week received a call to go to St. Paul at a greatly increased salary. But it is hardly likely that he will accept as he has served in Indiana so long that he would hardly feel at home anywhere else. Several years ago Dr. Naftzger was the recipient of a call from the Centennial Avenue church of Minneapolis, but declined for the reason that he did not care to leave this conference. The calls from St. Paul and Minneapolis carried offers of salaries much higher than any paid him heretofore but the ties that bind Dr. Naftzger to Indiana are too strong to release him and he probably will not leave this state.

No Evening Services.

During the months of July and August the Christ's Lutheran church, Rev. Mr. Albertus, the pastor, says there will be no Sunday evening public services. This will be a feature during these months with some of the other churches in the city. The Luther league has also decided not to have Sunday evening meetings until September.

Quiet Church Months.

But little of interest is occuring now in local church circles and this condition will prevail throughout July and August. These are the two dull months in religious affairs and the meetings, Sunday and during the week, are not well attended. In some of the churches only one Sunday service, the morning worship, is held. Many of the church members go out of the city on their summer vacations, and this is the case also with some of the pastors.

New York, July 8.—The settlement of the long litigation which has involved the Metropolitan traction systems for three years was virtually concluded today when Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court, directed Wm. W. Ladd, receiver of the New York City Railway company, to accept the offer of $5,500,000 in settlement of the suits brought against the Metropolitan Securities company and others. An early termination of the receivership is looked for.

PARISIAN BATHING SUIT.

Frenchwomen wear much more daring cotumes on the beach than are seen in America, as will be readily understood after examining this gay little costume of canary pongee. The arrangement of the blue and canary striped trimming adds much to the striking effect.

A FRAGRANT ROSE JAR

Strip the rose leaves and dry on papers spread on the floor of an unused room. When you have a half peck fine dry leaves, take a large china or glass bowl and strew a handful of table salt on the bottom. Add three or four handfuls of the leaves, follow with more salt and more leaves, until all the leaves are used. Salt must form the last layer. Let this remain five days, stirring and turning twice a day.

When they seem moist, add three ounces bruised allspice and two ounces bruised cinnamon. This forms the body of the stock. Let this remain a week or more, turning the top to the bottom.

Then it should be ready for the permanent jar, which should have a double lid. Mix together one ounce each bruised cinnamon and cloves, two ounces ginger root, sliced thin; one-half ounce bruised anise seed, one half pound dried lavender leaves, two ounces sliced orris root, two ounces dried orange and lemon peel, ten grains of musk and whatever you have in the way of dried violets, clove pinks, tube roses, orange blossoms, lemon verbena and bergamot. A little dried rosemary is also an addition.

Pack the rose leaves in the jars in layers, putting the fragrant mixture of spices between layers. When filled pour in a liquid mixture made from a pint of Florida water, the same amount magnolia water and a little of the essential oils of such perfumes as rose geranium, violet, jessamine or anything else you may desire. This is not necessary, but is an addition. Shake and stir once a week and open daily for a few months, taking care not to leave it uncovered any length of time.

Rose leaves and other fragrant flowers may be added through the season, but salt must be used also, as in the beginning.

This pot pourri is expensive in the making, but it will retain its delicate fragrance for a quarter of a century. Your druggist will quote you prices on the oils and you can get the amounts desired.

For one who dislikes the odor of spices, I would suggest gathering the rose petals from day to day and drying them in the same way for the richer jar.

A little salt added will intensify the odor and assist in their preservation. When dry transfer to the regular rose jar. Possibly you would like a recipe for rose beads, which also retain their fragrance, and when strung make valued necklaces or bracelets.

Collect the fresh petals, run through a meat chopper three times, or pound to a pulp if preferred in a small mortar with a pestle. Spread on a rusty tin, keeping damp with a little water, if necessary, and stir often. When dark colored, mix, then roll into balls twice the size of the beads you desire, or mould, if you prefer, in a thimble of medium size. The latter method insures uniformity of size. Empty the thimble with the small blade of a penknife and stick a coarse needle or pin through each ball, then into a piece of soft board. Let stand until dried. When the pin is removed the hole will be left, through which the beads can be strung on rubber. When half dry little figures or devices can be printed on the beads, if desired. They are also pretty strung alternating with small gilt beads. These chains can be tied with ribbons or fastened with gold or silver clasps.

EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

FASHION HINTS.

Charming scarfs that will be a real protection can be made from wide printed chiffon, and from three to four yards are necessary. In making the material should be shirred across the width in groups of pin tucks until the goods is only half its width. These groups are set in at intervals, leaving flowing ends.

Then the whole is lined with a soft, thin silk, the latter frilled to underlie the ends of the scarf.

The edges should be finished with maribou. Though of fragile materials, the construction of them results in a really practical and fairly substantial accessory.

A new and attractive idea in many instances is the addition of braid or a fold to all edges of a coat that forms part of a suit fashioned from white serge displaying a colored pin stripe. Often a suit of such material is apt to lack character, and this the coat edging supplies.

The color of the braid or fold is, of course, chosen to match the stripe in the serge.

In the case of the suit being worn by a short or stout woman, it will be better to omit the trimming, using something definite in color for deep collar and cuffs instead for relief.

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. EMMA LEISE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

The University of Paris and the Pasteur institute will jointly conduct a laboratory of radio-activity in that city.

No Purer Food Than Perfection Bread

There have been many laws made in times past bearing upon the methods of bread baking in public bakeries.

But not one of them has caused a change in the making of Perfection Bread.

Even the most rigid pure food laws possible to imagine can have no effect upon the "Perfection" processes.

Why? Because Perfection Bread always has been 100% pure in its mixing, baking and selling methods.

It has even anticipated the law compelling bread to be wrapped at the ovens by two years.

Get the bread that goes the pure food laws one better, "Perfection," the protected loaf. Ten cents a double loaf at all dealers.

THE BOSTON TEA PARTY—
Find Samuel Adams.

As the result of landing of three ships in Boston harbor, loaded with tea, upon which England had fixed a duty, 200 men clad in blankets and carrying hatchets, encouraged by Samuel Adams, posted pickets on the wharf to prevent the intrusion of spies, took possession of the three tea ships and emptied into the bay 340 chests of tea. All things were conducted with great order, decency and perfect submission to the government. The people who looked on were so still that the noise of breaking open the tea chests was plainly heard.

The next morning a committee appointed Samuel Adams and four others to draw up a declaration of what had been done. They sent Paul Revere with the information to New York and Philadelphia.
Find Samuel Adams.

Directions—Trace the outlines of "Adams" on this or a separate sheet of paper. All answers must be received by Tuesday night, July 12th. The above prizes will be awarded to the neatest correct answers received.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

IN JAIL 52 DAYS IS WORTH $1,928

So Allege Two Garrett Young Men Who Say They Were Falsely Accused and Arrested.

Auburn, Ind., July 8.—Thomas Foster and Grover Schlatterback, two young men of Garrett, who were recently acquitted in the circuit court of petit larceny, the charges having been preferred by the officers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, have begun suits against the latter company for damages in the sum of $1,928 each for false arrest and imprisonment. The cases are identical and each is for malicious prosecution. Both were indicted, incarcerated in the county jail for a period of fifty-two days before being tried and each was on trial at the same time, each being acquitted. Each claims that because of such treatment at the hands of the company which was instrumental in the prosecution he lost his job and has been unable to secure another, that the infamy and disgrace suffered, that the expense in defending him, is worth $1,928, which sum each asks.

ENTERED NEW PASTORATE.

Kendallville, Ind., July 8.—Rev. John Oberholz, the new pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in this city, has arrived in Kendallville and taken charge of his new duties as the successor of the Rev. John C. Keller, who Wednesday left for his new charge at Hartford City.

CAN SHOW AT COLUMBIA CITY.

Columbia City, Ind., July 8.—Mayor Bloom will not interfere with the showing of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures in this city, unless there is a demonstration from the people that they do not want them shown. There being no negro families in this city no race troubles are feared here.

HAD HIS ARM BROKEN.

Kendallville, Ind., July 8.—Samuel Kline, a well-known farmer residing in the Trinity neighborhood northeast of the city, fell Tuesday while making hay, sustaining the fracture of his right arm. Dr. Newnam, of South Milford, was called and reduced the fracture.

HAAG MURDER CASE IN THE LIMELIGHT

Suspects at Bluffton Were Sweated Out, But Officers Secured No New Evidence.

Bluffton, Ind., July 8.—The Haag murder case was again brought into the limelight yesterday by the sweating process to which two suspects, David Hughes and Mrs. Minnie Sampsell, arrested in June for adultery and serving jail sentences, underwent at the hands of the officers. It had been thought for some time that the two had something to do or knew about the murder of Haag and yesterday the sheriff, Freeman Carlisle, and an officer, Gus Plessinger, instituted a sweat-out. Hughes and Mrs. Sampsell underwent a most searching examination, but the officers elicited nothing new in regard to the case.

The murder of Fred Haag was one of the most mysterious ever perpetrated in Bluffton. He met his death on the night of October 31 last, how no one knows. He was found the next morning lying dead on the floor of the butcher shop he conducted, a bullet hole in his body. Everything indicated that he had been dead for several hours. Since then every effort possible has been made to solve the mystery of his death but without avail. It is as great a mystery today as it was the morning his dead body was found.

Sheriff Carlisle stated today that there is little hope of proving anything against the two suspects now held unless something new is discovered. The officers spent almost the entire day yesterday in the jail talking to Hughes and Mrs. Sampsell.

IS NOW A FREE SCHOOL.

Debt-Lifting Abilities of Father Quinlan at Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., July 8.—Beginning in September St. Mary's parochial school will be a free institution for the school children of that church. Since it was opened eleven years ago, the patrons have been compelled to pay tuition for its maintenance. Under the administration of Rev. J. R. Quinlan, who retired several years ago as head of the St. Mary's parish, the enormous school debt was wiped out and today but $300 indebtedness remains, and funds are in sight to pay off this delinquency. This remains the only back obligation against the church organization.

St. Mary's school was erected eleven years ago at a cost of over $10,000.

By his business ability and much hard work, Rev. Quinlan gradually reduced the debt against the school and heating plant and his success attained is now announced with the statement that hereafter no tuition will be required from young people of St. Mary's church who attend.

TORE DOWN FENCE POSTS.

Dr. Bulson, of Fort Wayne, Begins Suit in Warsaw Court.

Warsaw, Ind., July 8.—Charging that Abraham M. Jones and others are preventing him from building a fence around his lot on Lake Wawasee, near Pickwick park, Dr. Albert E. Bulson, of Fort Wayne, has filed suit for injunction in the Kosciusko circuit court, asking that the defendants be enjoined from interfering with the work. A temporary restraining order was issued by Judge Bowser and was served by Deputy Sheriff Minear on Thursday.

Dr. Bulson owns a cottage adjoining the Jones property at Wawasee and claims that when his workmen commenced to build a fence around the property the Joneses tore down the fence posts and threatened to use a shotgun if another attempt was made to build the fence. The restraining order will prevent interference with the fence building for the present and the injunction case will be heard here at the September term of court.

DROWNED IN LAKE.

Warsaw, Ind., July 8.—In sight of at least fifty persons and within a short distance of a rowboat, LeRoy DeBow, of Nappanee, 19 years of age, was drowned in Lake Wawasee Thursday morning, when he was attacked with cramps while bathing. DeBow was the son of Mr. and Mrs. DeBow, who reside near Goshen, and a brother of Rev. DeBow, of Wakarusa. The remains were taken to Goshen on Thursday.

RED NOSES CLEARED

"I have been troubled with red nose and eczema for nearly eight years until I discovered poslam, the new magic cure. My face was a sight, and I was ashamed to be seen on the street. I was surprised to see the improvement after a month's treatment and I have a nice, clear complexion from which the pimples and my red nose disappeared like magic," says Charles F. Slutter, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. "My nose would be like a boil," says Carl D. Steinhoff, Columbus, Ohio, "not only painful, but embarrassing. I have given poslam a thorough trial. My face became smooth and fair. My nose is a natural color and does not get sore."

Poslam is the new skin remedy, naturally flesh-colored, which heals and hides all skin imperfections. Although primarily intended for eczema—stopping the itching with first application and rapidly restoring the health of the skin—poslam shows immediate and surprising results when used for less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, blotches, inflammation, etc.

Poslam is on sale in 50-cent boxes and $2 jars at all druggists, particularly Meyer Bros. Co. A free sample may be obtained by mail in plain wrappers by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York city.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—With almost as much eagerness as rain has been awaited in the northwest, wheat traders today watched for the government crop report. Barring profit taking by bulls the general tendency was evident to keep the market in equilibrium if possible till the all important tidings came from Washington. The principle question was whether the federal figures would confirm the crop disaster alleged to have taken place in the Dakotas and Minnesota, especially in North Dakota. One authority today put the loss since June 1, at 75,000,000 bushels. The market opened ⅛@¼c higher. September started a shade off to ⅛c up at $1.01⅛@1.01¼ to $1.01⅛, declined to $1.00⅞ and rallied to $1.10½.

Brokers for a leading packer were picking up corn. Selling was scattered. September opened ⅛@¼c higher to a shade lower at 60⅝c to 60⅞c and rose to 61⅛c.

Buying of oats was active enough to take care of all offerings. Pit traders were the sellers. September at the outset was unchanged to ⅛c higher. A decline to 36¾c was followed by a rise to 39⅜c.

Milwaukee and Chicago packers purchased provisions on a large scale. So did a prominent grain concern. Prices, which had started easy, turned decidedly firm. First quotations were unchanged to 5c down, with September at $22.10 for pork, $11.97½ for lard and $11.95 to $11.97½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, July 8.—Opening prices of stocks today showed vigorous advances in continuation of the movement in progress when the market closed yesterday. Illinois Central rose 2¾, Reading 1⅝, Union Pacific, St. Paul and American Car 1¾, Rock Island preferred and Southern Railway 1¼ and the majority of the more active stocks from a large fraction to a point.

There was a keen demand for Atchison, Reading and Union Pacific in which the recent decline has been very severe. The buying of Atchison was connected with the dividend meeting of the directors to be held today. The market in general gave a better exhibition of strength than for some time past. Union Pacific moved up 2¾. Atchison 2½, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie 2¼, St. Paul, Rock Island and Reading 2, Canadian Pacific 1⅜ and Great Northern preferred, Louisville & Nashville, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred, Wabash preferred, American Smelting, Colorado Fuel and General Electric 1½. Prices were a fraction off from the top at 11 o'clock.

Quiet demand continued to absorb offerings of stocks on all concessions, starting prices upward again. Maintainance of the St. Paul dividend colored expectation of action on the Atchison dividend. A government crop report in the afternoon was expected to make a good showing for winter wheat and corn. Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific gained 3, Reading 2¾, Southern Pacific and Consolidated Gas 2 and Chesapeake & Ohio and Northwestern 3½. Westinghouse Electric declined 1. Bonds were irregular.

Material advances aided by the leading stocks during the morning encouraged realizing after midday and Reading, Union Pacific, Atchison and St. Paul receded a point. Trading then became very quiet and the market gradually steadied.

Selling to take profits caused another downward movement in the afternoon. Most of the favorite stocks sold from 1 to 1½ points below their top figures of the forenoon. There was considerable strength and activity shown in the fertilizer stocks following an increase in the dividend to 5 per cent on Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Agricultural Chemical 2%, American Car 2% and American Cotton Oil 1.

The market closed generally very weak. The severe decline in condition of spring wheat disclosed by the percentage figures of the government report caused an abrupt relapse in prices of stocks. The whole list was affected without much distinction. The flash bulletin of the crop report came upon a dull and sagging market due to the over extension of the previous advance. The gains were wiped out in many instances. Northern Pacific was forced down 2½ under last night. Rock Island preferred 3¼, St. Paul and Great Northern preferred, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper 1. Dealings were not in great volume. There were some feverish rallies at the last.

COMPANY AND MEN MAKE STATEMENTS

Issue Circulars Explaining Their Views to the Public.

DIFFERENCES MAY BE LEFT TO ARBITRATION

Two Electric Employes Have Painful Accidents—Shop News.

Cincinnati, July 8.—Balloting on the strike proposition now taking place on the Pennsylvania lines, involving 15,500 men, is not expected to result in a walk-out, although it will empower the grand officers to order one, if that should be considered necessary. The company recently granted a horizontal increase of 6 per cent to all employes receiving less than $800 per month, and later offered to put the New York Central rates into effect, but not to increase the rate by making a ten-hour day apply to the rates made to fit an eleven or twelve hour day.

It is on this point that the controversy will hinge; a ten-hour day and the standardization of wages on the Pennsylvania lines. Heretofore each division of the Pennsylvania has had its own standard of wages, and each differed from the others. To standardize these various schedules will require a considerable revision of the now existing ones, and this can only be done by arbitration. It is probable that this method will be adopted.

When the Eastern Federation was formed in Boston last autumn, the Pennsylvania trainmen and conductors refused to join in the movement for standardization of wages in the east. Later, when it was seen what a success the movement had made, a request was made on the grand officers of the trainmen and conductors to head a movement in behalf of the Pennsylvania's men. This they refused to do until such time as the work of the federation movement in the east was completed. This is now practically finished, and now that the Pennsylvania movement will be in the hands of the brotherhood grand officers, it will be handled in the same manner and along the same lines that brought about amicable adjustments on all of the other eastern lines.

Under date of July 6 a circular letter was sent out by Pennsylvania operating officials, addressed to all employes in train and yard service, in which it was announced that a copy of the ballot had been furnished the company, and that it contains a number of statements which are at variance with the facts as understood by the company.

The circular sets forth the fact that the company has from time to time given its employes voluntary wage increases, following a policy of keeping wages fully as high as other lines—the awards of various mediation and arbitration boards—being at all times taken into consideration—and avoiding the possibility of the question of wages becoming involved.

While the vote is progressing the attitude of the company is plainly one of opposition to the recognition of organizations of employes through committees or official representatives. Touching this point the official circular as a final declaration says:

"On the question of agreements, it is felt that if the management can be depended upon to treat the men as fairly without an agreement as with one, it is very much better, both for the company and the employes, that the officers should have a free hand to administer the details of operation. This for the reason that conditions are constantly fluctuating on a railroad, and neither the affairs of the company nor the welfare of the men can be as well looked after if both parties are tied up by a hard and fast agreement as to the administration of details. This company has been operated for some 50 years without agreements, and the results would indicate that the policy was not an unwise or an unfair one, either for the employes or the company."

PENNSY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Held Meeting to Elect Officers and Discuss Field Day.

The executive board of the Pennsylvania Employes' Athletic association held a meeting in the master mechanic's office last night to elect officers for the ensuing year, and fix a date for the annual field day. The election resulted as follows:

President—H. T. Hogan.
Vice President—E. C. Rehling.
Treasurer—P. F. Landy.
Secretary—F. S. Dorlot.

It was decided to have the field day meet at the Driving park on Saturday, August 20, providing the park managers have not let the grounds for other purposes on that date. A committee will immediately call upon the park officials and ascertain if the date is satisfactory and if so active preparations for the big event will commence at once. New features will be added to the exercises with a view of making them more interesting than any field day event that preceded this one and it will be the greatest athletic show ever given in Fort Wayne.

WILL BRING IN 1,000.

Nickel Plate Arranges for Fifteen Car Excursion Train.

The passenger department of the Nickel Plate has advance information to the effect that over 1,000 people will come to Fort Wayne on the excursion train next Sunday. Fifteen cars have been assigned for this business and the indications are that there will be passengers enough to fill every one of them. South Whitley expects to furnish 400 excursionists on this occasion. The train will arrive here at 11 a. m. and will leave at 7 p. m. The attraction for the South Whitley people is a ball game between the South Whitley Greens and the Shamrocks at League park.

TWO UNFORTUNATE SHOPMEN.

George Korn and Art Koenig Each Have a Hand Hurt.

There were two accidents at the Fort Wayne Electric works early this morning. George Korn, who operates a punch in the mica room, of which Fred Fleming is foreman, got one of his hands in the machinery and the index and second fingers were crushed so badly that they had to be amputated at the second joint. Dr. Schultz performed the operation at the St. Joseph hospital. Arthur Koenig, the other victim, works in the fan motor department. He had one of his hands badly cut between the thumb and fingers while working with a milling saw. While bad, the wound will not cause the loss of any part of the member.

EXPRESS EMPLOYE INJURED.

E. Merriman Struck and Knocked Down by Train.

While loading express matter into a car at the Pennsylvania depot yesterday afternoon E. Merriman, an employe of the Adams Express company, got too near an adjoining track and was struck and knocked down by a passing freight engine. He had one of his knees cut and one of his elbows bruised, but was not seriously hurt. He was taken to his home at 216 West Lewis street.

RAPIDLY RECOVERING.

Yardmaster Deahl Considering Resumption of Work.

Samuel S. Deahl, the Nickel Plate yardmaster, who was so badly injured last fall when he was run over by a switch engine, was able to get an ordinary shoe on the injured foot this morning for the first time since the accident. He is also able to get around quite actively with the assistance of a cane and expects to be able to resume work August 1.

SENDING BOILERS EAST.

Today the Bass company had loaded two 150 horse power tubular boilers for shipment to Baltimore. They were built for the American Can company.

HAD LEG BRUISED.

F. J. Heck had one of his legs bruised this morning, when a casting fell off a hand cart and struck him. The injury will keep him from work for a few days, though it is not serious.

CIVIL ENGINEER ADVANCED.

C. A. J. Richards, for over a year an assistant to Civil Engineer A. S. Bland, of the Pennsylvania, has been transferred to the office of the engineer of bridges at Pittsburg. The vacancy in the local engineering force has not yet been filled.

ORDERS FIFTY ENGINES.

Announcement was made yesterday that the B. & O. had ordered fifty of the mammoth freight engines known as the "Mikado" type, next in weight to the immense Mallet compound engines. The Baldwin Locomotive works will build these engines and it is said they will weigh 270,000 pounds.

NO CHEAP RATE FOR VETS.

The veterans of the war of the rebellion will pay one and one-half railway fare for the round trip when they go to the encampment in Atlantic City in September. They expected a rate of a cent a mile. Many who would go at the latter rate will not attend the encampment under existing conditions.

GONE SOUTH FOR A VISIT.

Miss Gertrude Wortman, stenographer for Mr. Card, in the production department of the Electric works, has gone to Atlanta, Ga., to spend a month wth a friend. Miss Gertrude Traxler, a clerk in the same department, has gone into the country to spend a week with relatives.

Y. M. C. A. MAN DEAD.

Fort Wayne friends of N. L. Snyder have been advised of his death, which followed an operation for appendicitis at Washington Court House, Ohio, last Wednesday. Mr. Snyder was formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Lima, Ohio, and many of the Pennsylvania trainmen and other employes of the company knew him and entertained high regard for him.

ENGINEERS WANT A RAISE.

Some time this morning the B. L. E. men on the lines west of Chicago will present demands for increased wages, asking an advance of 20 to 40 per cent. Similar action will also be taken on those lines by the conductors and trainmen who belong to the brotherhoods. The action of the engineers is in accordance with instructions issued by the Detroit convention last May. After the western men have received the increase the same action will be had on the lines in the east.

L..T SUMMER MEETING.

Rev. Frank M. Fox, of the Third Presbyterian church, delivered the address at the open meeting of the Carpenters' and Joiners' union last evening, which will be the last of the series of open meetings this summer. Following the address the officers were installed. The carpenters' trade is busy this summer, many new men are being added to the forces and as a result the field is constantly expanding for work for the union. Many members have been taken into the brotherhood so far and many more will be added during the summer.

WATCHING THE CLAM SHELL.

Notwithstanding the great heat, a crowd of men and women can be found at almost any hour of the day watching the clam shell unloading device at work in the Pennsylvania yards. This machine, which belongs to France Brothers, the contractors, started a few days ago at Fairfield avenue elevating the rails of the track upon which it is running and at noon today was at Webster street, having reached a height of eight feet at that point. Sand for track elevation is lifted from cars on an adjoining track by this machine. While the process may not be as rapid as unloading with a steam plow, it requires a much less working force and is consequently accomplished at a much less cost.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. C. Iles has taken employment at the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Trainmaster R. E. Casey, of the G. R. & I., is in Grand Rapids today on business for the company.

Peter G. Lepper and C. F. Wehrley, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

C. F. Middlefield, of the Pennsylvania copper shop, is off duty preparing to go to housekeeping.

W. J. Koch, painter at the Pennsylvania shops, has recovered from an illness which kept him at home two weeks.

C. S. Stephens, a traveling freight agent for the Pere Marquette, was here today on business for the company.

Westbound Nickel Plate train No. 1 was delayed over an hour today by the immense local business along the line.

Machinist Charles Seibold, of the Pennsylvania shops, and his wife will leave for the lakes tomorrow to remain a week.

Fireman John Knight was taken ill while at work on Pennsylvania switch engine 7109 yesterday and had to relinquish work. He is still off duty.

C. F. Frauchtenicht, who had a hand injured while at work in the Pennsylvania machine shop several days ago, has recovered and resumed work.

Yesterday Ray Keeley, an apprentice, Albert Trautman, Oliver Warderly and Floyd Drewery, helpers, took employment in the boiler shops of the Bass works.

A. D. Cressler, the head of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, left this afternoon for Washington, D. C., where the company is installing an immense gas plant.

C. E. Hankins, a lineman in the employ of the Wabash, was taken to the railway hospital at Peru yesterday for a slight surgical operation. Mr. Hankins works on the line between Fort Wayne and Toledo.

Leonard S. Wignot has resigned the office of superintendent of the Wayne Shoe company and has accepted employment with another manufacturer in Chicago. Mr. Leland, of Detroit, will succeed Mr. Wignot.

Charles Eichels, assistant boiler shop foreman of the Wabash, is looking for a Manson wheel which was taken from the shop several days ago. This was the second wheel lost in this way by Mr. Eichels within the past twelve months.

A. D. Corey, according to the "Bowser Boomer," has been advanced in the ranks of the officials of the big oil tank works. A new office known as the general sales department has been created and Mr. Corey installed as the head of it.

The Wabash is making a commendable effort to prevent blocking the Broadway crossing more than is absolutely necessary. Long passenger trains, when it is evident that considerable time is required to unload and take on passengers, baggage and express goods, are cut in two and the crossing opened to pedestrians at least. Patrolman Smith is on hand to remind the trainmen of any infractions of the instructions concerning this matter, if necessary.

Following the recent compromise of the litigation between the city and the Metropolitan Engineering and Construction company over the paving of Brackenridge, Taylor and Suttenfield streets and Columbia avenue, the board of public works Thursday evening approved the assessment rolls for the work. Thursday evening, July 21, has been set for the hearing of objections by property owners to the assessments and the confirmation of the rolls, and sixty days will then be given property owners for payment or bonding of their assessment. PRESIDENT TAFT AT WINONA

Will Speak at Winona Lake August 31st, During Great Bible Conference.

Never in sixteen years has the Winona Assembly presented such a strong program as the one announced for this season of 1910. Many of the most brilliant lecturers and readers will appear on the program; the most scholarly ministers will give addresses and preach on the Sundays. David Bispham, as well as many notable singers, will be heard and there will be music by glee club, band and orchestra. Many novel and new features are presented in the program. Among them are the sacred oriental opera "Egypta"; the Venetian Night; the children's opera, "The House that Jack Built" and the John Nicholson Sylvan players.

President Taft will be at Winona to speak on Foreign Mission Day, and his pastor, Dr. J. Wesley Hill, will also be a speaker on the Winona platform. Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, will tell about "The Misfortunes of Mickey," Mr. Earnest Thompson-Seton will lecture on animals, while the great African game hunter, A. Radclyffe Dugmore, will show pictures of the lions that offered entertainment for "Teddy." Dr. J. W. Hurty will give two lectures, one on "Healthy Homes," and another on "Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis."

An interesting feature will be the life story of Joseph K. Griffis, the half-Indian who is known as "Tehan." This life story will tell an Indian's experience from war path to platform. The Kentucky congressman, Hon. Ollie M. James, will be one of the principal speakers on civic questions, his lecture subject being "The Friends and Enemies of the Republic."

A CHILDREN'S RETREAT.

An Unusual Amount of Entertainment Especially Designed for the Amusement of the Young people.

Winona Lake is essentially a children's retreat. There they can play from early morning until evening without fear of harm befalling them. The casual visitor to Winona always speaks of the number of children to be seen. And they are all always having a good time. The Winona management has a tender place in its heart for the children and sees to it that various entertainments and amusements are provided all through the summer months. This season the children are to be unusually fortunate for several especially fine entertainments have been arranged for them.

"The House That Jack Built" will be given August 17 and 18 under the direction of Mrs. Hortense R. Reynolds, of Des Moines, Iowa. Some 300 children will take part in this beautiful operetta.

Mrs. Reynolds will go to Winona early in the season and will select this large number of children from those on the grounds. This drill alone will be of great value to the children and many parents have already signified their desire that their children take part.

The "Young People's Parade" will occur July 29. This will be under the direction of Mr. J. W. Vandeventer, of St. Petersburg, Fla. In this parade will be incorporated many of the ideas of the Washington's Birthday Parade, which is an annual feature of the winter life at St. Petersburg.

Many of the other numbers on the season's program will be of especial interest to children, such as the pictures by A. Radclyffe Dugmore, the African game photographer; the animal stories by Earnest Seton-Thompson; the readings by Isabel Garhill Beecher and other readers, and especially the D. W. Robertson moving pictures.

Besides these entertainments at the auditorium there will be a kindergarten for the children, a Girls' club and a Boys' club. These clubs are directed by experienced men and women, who plan royal times for the mornings and afternoons of the summer. The boys are taught to swim and row and how to fish. All kinds of hikes are planned for the summer and many fish bakes will be enjoyed. The girls belonging to the Girls' club will have just as good a time, for they are to learn basket weaving and fan drills and how to make a whole family of dolls out of peanuts and toothpicks.

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL WIT HTHE CIRCUS

"The prettiest girl with the circus." That's what they all say, at least all the Barnum and Bailey circus folks. Upon the circus program she is known as La Belle Victoria, but her real name is Victoria Codona and throughout her veins courses Castilian blood. Although scarcely nineteen years of age this slip of a girl contributes to the circus menu what many visitors consider the gem of the whole performance. Upon a slender steel strand high in the air she negotiates "stunts" which the circus man avers will make you grip the sides of your chair and all this without the use of any balancing medium whatsoever.

In her own way Senorita Victoria is a celebrity in the circus world. She is not only a daughter but a great granddaughter of the circus and is proud of it, too. Prior to coming with the Barnum show her father ran a small circus in Mexico, where practically the entire program was given by the family. Traveling with her are her father and older brother, the latter contributing an amazing performance upon the single trapeze, while the former, now too old to perform, finds his great delight in being with his children and sharing in their success.

So watch out when the circus comes to town, July 13, and about half way through the bill you will see Victoria Codona from Old Mexico, where the women bloom with the same luxurious beauty as their tropical flowers, and altogether the prettiest little Spanish girl you ever saw in your life.

WOES COMING THICK AND FAST FOR W. A. NAVE

He is Sued for Divorce and Fined for Larceny—City Court.

Woes have been coming thick and fast for W. A. Nave, a young man employed by the Fort Wayne Corrugated Paper company. Yesterday he was made defendant in a divorce action instituted by his wife, and this morning in the city court he was given a fine of $5 and costs with a suspended jail sentence of ten days on a charge of petit larceny.

The testimony showed that in February last Nave, who had been employed at the Ulmer livery stables, stole a mirror from that establishment and placed it in the boarding house where he and his wife were living. Nave admitted having taken the mirror, but denied any intention of being a thief. He "just took it," he said.

Other City Court Cases.

Josephine Smith, a frail female from the red-light district who admitted on the witness stand that she had been drinking in a chili parlor at Calhoun and Superior streets, was fined $5 and sent to jail for ten days on a charge of prostitution to which she pleaded guilty.

Mabel Hunter, who assigned the fact that she was "disgusted" as an excuse for her condition, was in court on a charge of public intoxication. She was given a severe lecture by Judge Mungovan, who then declared he would give her one more chance at reformation.

Christian Smith, in court on a charge of assault and battery filed by his 17-year-old daughter, had his case continued two weeks in order to give him a chance after his wife and the daughter had told on the witness stand a pitiful story of cruelty and neglect upon the part of Smith.

William F. Moore, a cripple who was begging for money in the southeastern part of the city and spending the proceeds for liquor, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of loitering.

S.S.S. A BLOOD MEDICINE FOR YOUNG OR OLD

We all understand the principle of bodily nourishment—how the blood, loaded with nutritive properties, circulates through the system and candy supplies the needs of every muscle, nerve, bone and tissue. The majority of human ailments are caused by impure blood, because when the body is supplied with weak, polluted blood the system is deprived of its necessary strength and disease-resisting powers. Children do not develop perfectly, nor are they strong and robust unless the blood is pure and strong, while old people are afflicted with rheumatism, and other attendant troubles of old age, because of a weakened circulation. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, strengthening, cleansing roots and herbs, the purest and best blood medicine for young and old. It cures every ailment which comes from impure or diseased blood, tones up and regulates every part of the system and creates an abundant supply of nourishment with which to build up the blood. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

WIT OF PARADISE.

MAGIC TOUCH OF CAJOLERY.

Fire Escapes and Hanging Gardens Put on the Building at Tenants' Expense—Hammordinger, the Grocer, Gives Up Two Eggs to Genius.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.]

"VELL, I vhas wondering if you vhas gone dead," said the German grocer as the janitor of Paradise flats dropped in to see him the other evening and inquire the price of eggs.

"Oh, I'm alive yet," was the reply. "A first class janitor changes places now and then if he can better himself, but he never dies. The world can't spare him. Have you been past our flats lately?"

"No. Vhas dere some fire or something?"

"You ought to take a walk down that way. Fire escapes on the front and flower boxes and pots on every window ledge—regular flower gardens—and people stop to look us over."

"Und so your boss vhas spending lots of money, eh?"

"Not a cent—not a red cent. He was notified to put up fire escapes, and he comes to me and says:

"'Are you a first class janitor?'

"'I am,' says I.

"'Then make good. Here are some fire escapes ordered.'

"'Shall I get a mechanic?'

"'Mechanic nothing! You've got to work the tenants. If you can't make good you are only a second rater.'

"That's what he says, Mr. Hammerdinger, and it was up to me to hustle."

"Vhy, I never hear dot tenants have to put oop fire escapes."

"Nor me neither."

"Den how can you hustle?"

"You know what human nature is, don't you?"

"Of course. It is us."

"That's right, but we are not all alike. In fact, we all differ. When you find out where the difference is you can call yourself a first class janitor. The reason I'm first class is because I study my tenants. That's why I never have to carry out an ash can or a garbage pail. That's the reason why I hadn't a snow shovel in my hand all winter. That's the reason why all our tenants replace their broken windows and paper their own rooms."

"By golly, but I like to be a janitor myself!" exclaimed Mr. Hammendinger.

"Don't wish it. Stick to groceries. You'd be a dismal failure and hurt the profession. You were born to sell two cans of tomatoes for 25 cents. Don't try anything else."

"But how did you do?"

Works Cajolery on the Countess.

"Well, after thinking things over I went up to see the Countess Damito. She's the wife of the banana man, you know. Lives on the top floor and sets our fashions. I asked her if she'd seen the latest thing in fire escapes, and when she said she hadn't I showed her a photograph of one on the Waldorf-Astoria. Then I went on to say that our flats might catch fire any night and that she would present the most graceful picture in the world coming down an escape at night with her silk wrapper fluttering in the breeze. I dwelt on the photo the papers would have and the interviews that would be asked for, and she clapped her hands in delight."

"But don't you call dot some deception, Mr. Janitor?" asked the grocer.

"Oh, no. That was simply cajolery. It's the same as you pasting a fresh label on an old can of corn. You don't deceive, but you cajole. You cajole the can and the buyer to boot."

"Vhell, mebbe dot vhas so."

"And when I had cajoled the countess I hinted that she ought to run a fire escape down to the next floor at her own expense to show off on. She was to have it all to herself in case of fire. No opposition shows. If she wanted me to and would keep still about it I'd raise a smoke some night and give her a chance to do the descending act."

"By golly, but vhat a man you vhas! Vhy don't you run for governor?"

"Too busy being a first class janitor. The countess took the bait. I got an ironworker for her, and she told him to go ahead. I said nothing to any of the others until the escape was finished.

Then I called on Lady Saunders, the wife of the cobbler. I told her that the countess was paying for the work, and it was only to come down to the third floor, and she grits her teeth and says:

"'That woman! She thinks she runs these flats, but I'll show her she don't. So she's up to a dramatic descent in a pink silk wrapper, is she? Well, she may find some one in a blue silk wrapper ahead of her. Get the same man to run the escape down to the next floor, and I'll pay the bill.'"

Lady Saunders Gets It.

"And do you do it?" asked the grocer.

"Sure's your alive and putting your best potatoes on top. Yes, sir, that escape went down. Then I went in to see the Duchess of Sutherland, on the second floor. Her husband drives for a coal yard, but she pretends he owns the yard and drives for the fresh air there is in it. She was on the rampage at once. She'd also have her fire escape, and she offered to have it nickel plated. There's our beautiful escape from the top to the first story, and it hasn't cost the boss a red."

"Wonderful! Wonderful! It seems like I vhas in some dreams, Mr. Janitor. Do you believe you can learn me to cajole somebody?"

"Hardly. You ain't built for it, and you've got a squint to one of your eyes. No man with a squint ever made a successful cajoler. If he's a grocer he lies right out."

"Vhell, you know best. Und how about dem flowerpots?"

"Cajolery, Mr. Hammerdinger—cajolery. When the first wagons began to come around with flowers I slipped up to see the countess and ask her if she had ever seen the hanging gardens of Babylon. She hadn't, nor I either, but I happened to have an old picture of them. She was delighted with it, and I told her that she could make hanging gardens of her three windows if she wished. They would be a sign to all passers that a person of distinction occupied that flat, and some of the newspapers might write it up."

The Duchess Gets Inoculated.

"And she got some hanging gardens, did she?"

"Right off quick. Spent about $12, I believe, to make the show."

"Und den you see all der odder womens and cajole 'em."

"No. There was no need to. They were on their high heels watching the countess. They began following suit the very next day. They put out red, blue, yellow, white, black and all other colored pots and boxes, and inside of four days every window ledge was filled. Fifty dollars' worth of flowers, and it's a beautiful sight to see. I am letting them think that the name has been changed to the New Babylon. We want a new hot water heater in the basement, and next week I'm going to see if I can't do some more cajoling. I'll promise the countess that the water that comes up to her room shall be of superior quality, and that'll fetch her, I guess."

"Mr. Janitor," said the grocer after a moment of silence, "do you have a button in your pocket?"

"A button? I believe I have one that come off my coattail the other day."

"Vhill you give him to me?"

"Oh, yes. Here it is. Why did you want it?"

"To keep all my life to show folks dot I vhas acquainted mit der greatest man in all dis world. Put two eggs in your pocket free ash you go out!"

Tangled Up Again.

Mr. Makinbrakes was expressing his gratification that a respectable family had moved into the house next to his.

"You may not like it at first, Mr. Newcome," he said, "for our street has kind of run down, and nobody that amounts to a pinch of snuff ever comes here to live any more—that is—I mean that's the way they talk about our street. But it isn't exactly true, for we have had sometimes just as good citizens as you'll find anywhere. The family that occupied that house you've just moved into were exceptionally nice people, and we were sorry to see them move away, because you never can tell what kind of—er—people will come next, you know—might be the cheapest kind of skates, you see. I'm not speaking of anybody personally, or, rather, I am, for one is likely to be too polite to—h'm—perfect strangers, and—er—encourage them to borrow things when you—by the way, Mr. Newcome, do you think the Cubs stand any chance of winning the championship this year?"—Chicago Tribune.

Burke Squad Drops a Pair of Them to the Potters

Kenworthy Held Them to Two Hits in First Game—Reddin Makes a Trial and Shows in Hitting.

Colonel Burke and his squad tried to pry the Potters loose from their place at the tail of the column yesterday and to that purpose contributed a brace of games. The first was a stubborn contest waged with much feeling to windup, Zanesville's winning tally coming across in the ninth through a weird combination of events in which no hit figured. Pfeffer had passed Manda—Varnell's own property loaned to Zanesville—and in a laudable endeavor to catch him off first Quiesser threw the ball away. Manda was on third when the ball was brought in. Justice's bad management of O'Brien's hit took Manda across and the only score of the game was Zanesville's. Kenworthy's pitching was of the shut-out brand throughout and the Fort Wayne crowd had no chance with him. Pfeffer also was effective and clean playing in the ninth would have carried the contest into extra innings.

The second game was Zanesville's honest by reason of more hitting and cleaner play. Miller's troubles began right off the reel when four trotted over. The fourth and sixth also produced for the Zanesvilles. For Burke's crew Reddin, the recruit, laced out a double and scored on Corns' hit. Reddin repeated with a single in the fourth and Burke duplicated, but the manager was forced out at second when Gainer hit into short. Then our Mister Bailey came forward and inaugurated the one spectacular event of the day by lifting one over the left field fence. Reddin showed well in the battle having a double and a single and fielding his place in fine style. Young was walloped on the head with a batted ball in the first game and forced to retire. He is not seriously injured. Corns finished for him. The scores:

IN THE SHAMROCK FOLD.

Third Baseman Long, of Garrett, has signed with the Fort Wayne Shamrocks, and will be in the game at League park next Sunday, when the Shamrocks play South Whitley. Long is a fast man, has had the experience, and will add much strength to the locals. South Whitley has also taken on two new players, and are out to take the coming battle from the Shamrocks.

The biggest excursion ever run into Fort Wayne for a semi-pro ball game, will be put on by the Nickel Plate next Sunday, starting from Hammond. Twelve coaches will be used, and reports from along the line are that they will be packed when they pull in at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Robbins, Diederich or Seitz will work against South Whitley. All are going fine. Anderson, who will join South Bend next spring, will pitch for Whitley.

Four straight wins for the Shamrocks. The club looks good for a whirlwind finish.

Reddin, the Shamrock right fielder who has signed with Jimmy Burke's crew, made a great showing in the second game of the double-header at Zanesville yesterday.

SHOP LEAGUE NOTES

President Pevert, of the Fort Wayne Shop league, announces the following umpires for Saturday's contests: Grimme and Graney, at Randall field; Summers and Miller, at Reidmiller field; Backofen and Cook, at Packard field, and Quinn and McManigal, at McCulloch field. A special meeting of the umpires named above will be held tonight at the Baltes hotel, as matters of much importance are to be brought before the officials.

The following games will be played by the shop league teams tomorrow: Pennsylvania vs. Wayne Knits. Bass vs. Electro-Technics, Knott-Van Arnam vs. Wabash, and Rolling Mills vs. Packards.

Owing to the fact that several protested games are to be brought before the managers of the league, the meeting for July 19th will be held next Tuesday evening, as the matters must be settled immediately. As the meeting is one of much importance, every manager must be in attendance and substitutes will not be admitted.

MAJESTIC AIRDOME.

CHAMP DISCARD OF THE AMERICAN WINNER

Bill Burns Pulls One Across for Cincinnati—The Major Leagues.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—One B. Burns, the universal discard who now and then can do some demoniac pitching, acquitted himself as described in a performance against the Cubs yesterday. He held the leaders to two hits and then hit out a single that scored the only run of the game. King Cole pitched high-grade ball for the Cubs, allowing but four hits. The score:

The locals got all their hits in the first in one inning and made just enough runs to win. Score

Keen Eye Secret of Batting

"The eye undoubtedly has more to do with making great batsmen than either the position at the plate or the swing," says a well-known writer. "The one is the result of the other, for it is the defective eye which gives the improper position at the plate, or causes the faulty swing at the bat."

There is a lot of truth in the above. It is not always the man who uses the longest bat who makes the most base hits. Stars like Tommie Leach, who grasp their sticks well up along the handle, do not get much of a swing on the ball, and yet the sphere travels just as far when they meet it fairly as it does when swatted by a man who grasps his bat far down at the handle.

Commenting on the prowess of Napoleon Lajoie, the great Cleveland slugger, another scribe says: "There is perhaps no better batsman than Larry, and his prowess is attributed by those who have made a study of the big fellow, to his remarkable sight. Lajoie has optics that take in everything at a glance. Though he has never made a study of mathematics, it is said of Lajoie that he can take a glance at a column of figures and have the total perfect. His eye conceives so quickly that when six dice are thrown out he has the total points figured out as soon as they quit rolling. It is, therefore but natural that he can detect the break on a pitched ball much sooner than does the average man. It also explains why he has nothing to fear when he steps into the ball, for it is seldom that he is hit because he can follow the sphere perfectly with his eye. Lajoie is a big, strong fellow, whose arms can wield the heaviest kind of a bat, but it is unquestionably his eye that is responsible for his wonderful prowess as a hitter."

River Pirates Hold the Benders While We Slump

Evansville Takes Wheeler's Crew Down the Line in a Double Header—Games of the Central Thursday.

While Fort Wayne was dropping 'em two at a time over at Zanesville to the other end of the Central league procession Evansville was holding the vanguard of the parade in beautiful check. The river pirates took both games by scores of 6 to 2 and 1 to 0. Both Smith and Corbitt were alike to the Evansvilles in the first game they fared equally bad. The second game was a rather brilliant contest between Sterzer and Moffitt. Lejeune kept Evansville to the good by a thrilling climb of the fence to pull down Garris' long drive in the sixth.

Terre Haute showed Grand Rapids the way 6 to 1 and the one was the legitimate child of Alberts' wild pitch. Martin was beaten up in rough and tumble style. Asher ornamented the affair with a home run.

Over in Wheeling the Daytonians charged into Mr. Humphries who refused to get out of the way at all. Dayton got but two hits off of him and never once got around. Neuschafer was hit rather freely.

NOTICE

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

On the 1st day of July we credited up in our Savings Department six months' interest on something like six thousand accounts.

On the 1st of next January we will credit up interest for the next six months.

If you are one of the thrifty six thousand to whom interest has just been credited, please bring in your pass book and have this interest entered; if you prefer you can of course draw the interest in cash.

If you are not one of these lucky ones, you ought to be. Why not become one? Why not start an account so that on the first of next January your name will be among those to whom interest will be due?

A savings account drawing 4 per cent interest is the most reliable friend you can have. A friend in need is the friend indeed. You can start with a sum as small as $1.00.

BOTH ACCEPT INVITATIONS

Presidant Taft and Col. Roosevelt at Ohio Valley Exposition.

OTHER NOTED MEN TO ATTEND

Governors of Various States and Mayors of Cities of the Ohio Valley Promise Support to the Enterprise and Express Their Intentions of Visiting Cincinnati During the Great Exposition.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— While no foreign potentates or visitors of royal birth have as yet announced their intention of attending the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held here next fall, a sufficient number of acceptances to invitations have been received from noted men of America to make the absence of foreign notables felt not at all. One of the first promises to attend the Exposition from men of international reputation was received from President Taft, who, besides praising the objects for which the Exposition will be held, declared his intention of spending at least a week in Cincinnati during the time of the progress of the big industrial enterprise. Following the acceptance of President Taft came others from Governor Deneen, of Illinois; Governor Harmon, of Ohio; Governor Glasscock, of West Virginia; Governor Marshall, of Indiana; Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, and Governor Willson, of Kentucky. Later came assurances from all the mayors of the cities of the Ohio Valley, promising their support to the enterprise and expressing their intentions of coming to Cincinnati to spend some time during the Exposition.

Within the past few days another trump card has been played by the Exposition in securing the promise of Former President Roosevelt to come to Cincinnati during the time of the Exposition. Colonel Roosevelt is desirous of coming here for several reasons. It was his great-uncle, Nicholas Roosevelt, who built the first steamboat that navigated the Ohio river, she being launched just 100 years ago—in 1810—and it being partially in commemoration of this event that the exposition is being held. It also was in Cincinnati in 1902 that Colonel Roosevelt, then president of the United States, made his first public official declaration in favor of improvement of inland waterways, a plan of conservation which has resulted, among other things, in the building of the Fernbank dam in the Ohio river, near Cincinnati, the completion of which also will be celebrated by the Exposition. It is expected that Colonel Roosevelt will spend several days in the city during the Exposition as the guest of his son-in-law, Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

SOUTH'S CORN EXHIBIT WILL CREATE FURORE

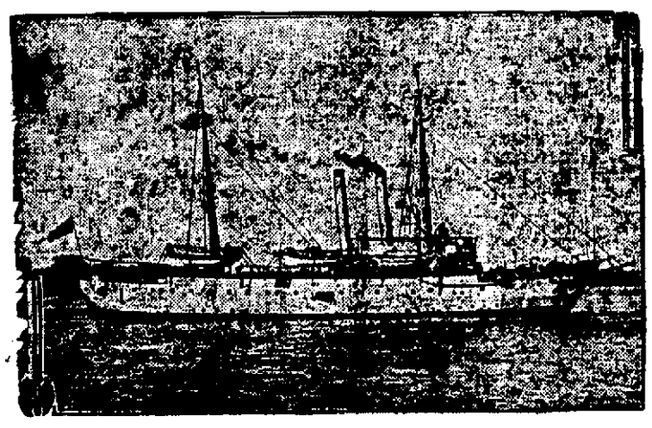
Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— The general impression that the Middle West has a monopoly on the raising of corn promises to receive its quietus at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24. In assembling the industrials, products and resources which will make up the Southern exhibit at the Exposition, the representatives of the various railroads in the South are giving particular attention to securing examples of the South's natural wealth of which the outside world knows little or nothing. And working along this plan, special efforts are being made to secure a large and classy exhibit of corn grown in various sections of Dixie, with the idea of impressing visitors to the Exposition that the South will grow anything that any other section can produce, and in just as high quality. For some years the matter of experimenting with the growing of corn has been progressing in the South, with the result that experts now boldly announce that with proper application and the employment of up-to-date methods of cultivation, the South can be made the greatest corn-producing section of America. Reports from the Department of Agriculture in Washington give interesting figures on this experimental work. In South Carolina a boy, devoting all his time and knowledge to corn planting and cultivating, succeeded in raising 152½ bushels to the acre in a section where the average yield was but 16 bushels per acre. In Virginia nearly 1,000 acres were planted and cultivated under improved methods, with the result that an average yield of 41 bushels per acre was secured. In Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas similar good results have been obtained by scientific cultivation, so that it is a reasonable estimate to make that 45 bushels to the acre can be secured with proper care and attention. Many cotton planters are turning to other staples as part of their annual crops because of the blighting work of the cotton boll weevil, and those who have taken up the growing of corn are finding that it promises more than any other product. The display of Southern-grown corn at the Ohio Valley Exposition promises to be comprehensive and of excellent quality, and those assembling this exhibit declare that it will compare in every way with the best examples that will be offered by growers of the Ohio Valley or the prairie states.

GUARDING AMERICANS IN TROPICS



The U. S. gunboat "Paducah," which is figuring prominently in the present revolution in Nicaragua, Central America. A model of the "Paducah" will be shown at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati from Aug. 29, to Sept. 24.

FAMOUS POTTERY MAY GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS

Cincinnati, O.—(Special.)—Efforts are being made to have the Rookwood Pottery, Cincinnati's famous home of ceramics, place a working model in the Ohio Valley Exposition. It is the boast of the Rookwood management that it produces no duplicates—that every piece of art ware produced by its associates is an original. If this display is made, it will show how the various kinds of vases and other pieces are fashioned, and it is believed that arrangements can can be made by which prospective buyers may be allowed to place their autographs upon such pieces as they may select and have them decorated, glazed and produced later on. This practice has been pursued with a number of noted actresses and actors who have visited the Rookwood Potteries, including Mme. Schumann-Heinck, Eleanor Robson, Madame Modjeska, E. S. Willard and others, and it is believed that it would add much to the attractiveness and general interest of the ceramic display at the Exposition.

POWER BOAT OF CONCRETE NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED

Cincinnati, O. — (Special.) — What probably will be the first boat built of concrete navigating by its own power will soon be constructed in this city for use on the Miami and Erie canal during the Ohio Valley Exposition, which opens Aug. 29 and closes Sept. 24. This boat will be built on plans devised on information received from the United States War Department in regard to the construction of barges of concrete for use on the Panama canal work. It has been found that barges of this kind can be constructed more economically than wooden barges, and that they are just as easily handled as ordinary barges, with the advantage that they can be more readily cleaned of sea parasites than wooden barges. The method of construction is similar to that employed in erecting concrete buildings, in that the concrete is spread over wire framework, making a perfectly rigid and waterproof surface throughout.

It is planned to utilize this boat to tow pleasure barges, also constructed of concrete, on the canal during the Exposition, the barges to be brilliantly illuminated and each supplied with musicians, a sort of continuous water carnival being thus inaugurated, the beauty of which will be augmented of the canal and brilliant illumination.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Kills the Dandruff Germ and Makes the Hair Grow

Stops Falling Hair and Removes Dandruff

FEW people are aware of the number of Dandruff Germs that infest the human hair and scalp. The germs which locate themselves in the follicle or sack which envelopes the root of the hair, spend a lazy existence in sucking up the juices which should go to keep life and strength in the hair. These germs cannot be seen by the naked eye, but with a magnifying glass of from 300 to 400 diameters the spores of this hair destroyer may be seen in masses, clinging to the hair.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy

Kills the Dandruff Germ when applied to the hair, and prevents the curse of Baldness. It also restores faded or gray hair to its natural color and beauty. No matter how gray or how long it has been gray, it will restore it to its natural color and keep it soft, glossy and healthful. Don't experiment with old-fashioned hair dyes, but save and restore your hair by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Iglesias declared that if Senor Maura, the former conservative premier, returned to power he would be assassinated.

CITY BREVITIES.

There were over three hundred present at the special open meeting and social session of the Allen lodge, No. 429, Degree of Honor, in the Aldine block last night.

Miss Bessie E. Parker, recently a graduate of the Hope hospital training school for nurses, has been appointed superintendent of St. Luke's hospital at North Platt, Neb. Miss Parker's home is in London, Ont., Canada.

George V. Kell, who has been visiting with his son Robert Kell, in the Texas panhandle district, has returned home. The son is now engaged in farming in the southwest and he says that it is much better than practicing law in Fort Wayne. A daughter, Miss Gertrude Kell, who accompanied her father to Texas, will remain there for several months.

According to the report of County Health Officer Van Buskirk there were sixty-three births and thirty-two deaths in this county during June. His report on the contagious diseases in th ecity and county is: City—Diphtheria, 8; scarlet fever, 25; smallpox, 1; chickenpox, 1; measles, 22. County—Diphtheria, 5; scarlet fever, 6, smallpox, 1; chickenpox, 6; measles, 30.

The Rational Treatment for Eczema

The day of the use of salves and greasy lotions in the treatment of eczema and other skin and scalp diseases is done. Time has proved them not only practically useless in effecting permanent cures, but also unclean and in reality, breeding places for disease germs. The Meyer Bros. Co. drug store is pleased to announce itself agent for ZEMO—the modern, clean, simple and infallible treatment for eczema, pimples, blackheads, dandruff and all itching diseases of the skin and scalp.

So confident are we of its efficacy that we say to you—use ZEMO according to directions—then if not satisfactory, come and get your money back.

Ask for booklet telling how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

INDIANA ELKS ARE PLANNING A BIG CHARITY

A State-Wide Campaign on Original Lines Will Be Adopted.

South Bend, Ind., July 8.—Plans for a statewide charitable campaign on entirely new lines were discussed today by the state convention of the Elks' lodge, which is in session in South Bend. If action is taken the order will distribute charity at Christmas time through the teachers of the public schools. Teachers and principals will be asked to report the names of worthy poor pupils and the lodge will provide them with Christmas presents and such articles of clothing as they need. The plan was suggested by Frank E. Hering, of South Bend, grand worthy president of the national order of Eagles, and met with favor with the delegates. The question was again discussed at the session of the convention this afternoon and action will probably be taken before the meeting adjourns.

TEACHERS WIND UP BIG CONVENTION IN BOSTON

Boston, July 8.—Having settled their business affairs yesterday the teachers attending the National Education Association convention took up the final work of the session today. The working sessions were much varied and extended over a wide range of subjects. Nearly all the delegates remained for the final session.

"When graduates entering normal schools do not know maples from elms or robins from English sparrows, the biology or the administration of the high school is remiss," was the opinion expressed by C. H. Robinson, of Montclair, N. J., before the department of science. The cry "back to the land" is as old as Adam, according to Anna Harvey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., addressing the kindergarten department. "Ever since he was driven out of the garden of Eden," she said, "man has been longing to get back to the soil. It is instinctive in children."

James Greenwood, of Kansas City, said: "Our present system of teaching has produced a luxuriant crop of spineless and animated nobodies."

BLACK MAYOR SNOW BARS THE FIGHT FILMS

Hobson City, Ala., Executive Fears They Will Cause Race Feeling.

Anniston, Ala., July 8.—Addison Snow, the black mayor of Hobson City, the exclusively negro town near here, announced today that he would not permit the fight pictures to be shown in Hobson City lest they augment race feeling.

BARRED FROM CUBA.

Havana, July 8.—The government has prohibited the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures. The incitement of racial animosities was feared.

WILL RECEIVE JOHNSON.

New York, July 8.—The negroes in the "Black Belts" of New York are planning a big reception for Jack Johnson when he arrives here Monday.

Permits will be applied for today for a parade of one hundred automobiles from Grand Central station across town and down Eighth avenue. The fistic champion will lead the parade, while two brass bands will enliven the line of March.

The moving picture films of the Jeffries-Johnson fight reached here today and are now being developed.

CHARLTON MAY GET HIS LIBERTY IN SHORT TIME

Case Again Postponed and Italian Government Must Soon Act.

New York, July 8.—A further adjournment today of the hearing of Porter Charlton in the court of oyer and terminer in Jersey City to August 11 forecasts an early ending of the case. The papers demanding Charlton's extradition to Italy to stand trial for killing his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, at Lake Como, have not been received and unless the state department at Washington takes some action within the next few weeks Charlton will be discharged from the custody of the Jersey court. Charlton is held on a sixty day warrant and the time will expire on August 22. Should Italy demand Charlton's extradition, the state department will reject the demand unless Italy agrees in future to turn over to us all Italians who have committed crimes in this country and then fled to Italy. This Italy, it is understood, will decline to do.

Youth is Not Sane.

Charlton's counsel had indicated his intention of applying for an adjournment of the hearing on the ground that the international phases of the case had not yet definitely shaped themselves.

There were some reports that the alienists who have been examining the youth almost daily in his cell were ready to submit their findings on his mental condition and would bear out the claim of his father, Judge Paul Charlton, that the young man was mentally irresponsible and therefore not a fit subject for extradition.

An adjournment for three weeks was generally expected, by which time the sixty days allowed for the holding of prisoners for extradition applications would be nearing expiration. If at the end of that period extradition has not been granted there will be nothing to prevent Charlton going free.

The Domestic Side of Life of the Woman With the Show

Despite Vicissitudes She Has Her Diversions and Finds Time to Indulge Feminine Fancies in Normal Fashion and is Not Discouraged by the Hardships of Life on the Road.

VICTORIA and MAE DAVENPORT: EQUESTRIENNES A FAMOUS CIRCUS GIRL

There is a domestic side to the life of the woman of "sawdust and spangles," of which the public knows little or nothing and despite the vicissitudes of the road, with its almost constant travel, for the greater part of the exhibition points during the season are one day stands, the women of the canvas city have their diversions and find time in which to indulge their feminine fancies in many directions. There is a wonderful fascination about the life for those employed in the circus, as well as for those who see only its romantic side; and in comparison with the old days, when the flights from town to town were made overland by wagons, instead of by train, the hardships are practically nil. With the Barnum and Bailey circus, which comes to Fort Wayne Wednesday, there are over five hundred performers, and over one-half of these are women. Although it is not generally believed, the modern circus is largely made up of families.

Fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers go to make up the circus program, and the circus rings become the playgrounds for the kiddies who accompany their parents. Among the small number of unmarried women with the Barnum Show there are less than ten who are unaccompanied by either parents or brother. The performers are provided with comfortable accommodations in well-equipped cars when speeding over the irons, and these cars are side-tracked immediately upon arrival in town and their occupants allowed to remain undisturbed for quite a few hours after the working people have "gone to the lot." At 9 o'clock each morning those who take part in the street parade report at the grounds and make ready for the pageant. Most of the performers take part in the parade, but exceptions are made with some of the women. In the average town the parade is over by the noon hour and this means a rest of some two hours before the afternoon show. The matinee is over shortly after 4 o'clock, leaving over three hours before the night performance to be occupied as fancy may dictate. Circus women as a rule take a very sane outlook on life, and when not engaged in the performance engage themselves much as the average good housewife would employ herself. The show this year is made up largely of Europeans and foreign groups. For their benefit a class in English has been started by some of the American women, and every day, unless something prevents, lessons are given the youngsters, that they may learn something of the language of the country. Clara Shipp, the rider, conducts one class, while Nettie Carroll, who rides Jupiter, the balloon horse, has the other under her wing. Included in the classes are youngsters from Hungary, Japan, Switzerland, Belgium, Spain, Bohemia and Italy. The only thing lacking to make it a real polyglot affair is a Chinese boy. Among so many children there is a great deal of patching and mending of clothes, and in this essentially domestic work all of the women take a hand. La Belle Victoria, a Spanish girl, who does a marvelous wire act, has spent the last five years in Mexico, and does exquisite drawn work, which all women admire.

Much of her spare time is passed in teaching the intricacies of this art to those of her female comrades who have the patience to make a go of it. Now and again the domestic instinct of some of the circus women will assert itself to the degree that permission will be asked of the circus chef to bake a cake—a request that is often requested—and not infrequently homemade dishes will appear on the table in the mess tent. Thus, the other day some favored ones were regaled with genuine Spanish enchiladas, made by La Belle Victoria. Another bit of domesticity that often manifests itself is that of the women who wish to do some of their own laundry work—some of the workmen are induced to dig a round hole of about five or six feet in circumference and several feet deep, and fill it with water—after the water has settled, the women bring out their toy washboards, kneel down on the ground, and wash their choice belongings in the same way as the French and Italian women wash their clothes by the running streams of their native country.

Of course there is a circus laundry, but most of the women have some finery, or other, which they will not trust to the circus launderers. None of the domestic scenes among the women attract the slightest notice from the hundreds of performers and employes, who are necessarily within close distance. It may be that they take it all as a matter of course, or it may be some innate refinement in their nature, however rough many of them may appear. At any rate, it is always the outsiders who come and peer curiously, and often times impudently at the work that is going on. Possibly the greatest hardship upon the women of the circus are the iron clad rules regarding trunks and personal belongings. Only the trunks containing necessary wardrobe for their acts are allowed in the circus green room during the week day and these trunks are of uniform size.

Sundays their trunks with personal belongings are hauled to the grounds by the management and they have a gala time of it. Most of the women, however, manage to find room enough in their every day trunks to store away bits of fancy work, etc., upon which they are working. While the spirit of the ladies' dressing tent is one of democricy and mutual helpfulness, there are certain lines of caste drawn and this finds expression in their little social organization. Chief among these is what is known as the "Hook club"—this is composed of twenty or more of the women who are spending their second season with the Barnum show. Anyone of these girls heard saying "Darn it," is fined 25 cents, which goes into the club treasury, and it is a matter of honor to contribute that amount, whether overheard or not. Other, and more emphatic expletives are taxed accordingly. Along near the close of the season, in some city which boasts a good hotel, the money accumulated is taken from the treasury and expended for a good dinner for the club members. One of the circus girls—a non-member—says they had enough in the treasury last fall to feed an army, but it might have been a case of sour grapes.

The most exclusive set among them is the Patrician club—a sort of circus sorosis. No woman of the circus who cannot trace her circus ancestors back at least three generations is eligible. Clara Shipp, an equestrienne, one of the famous Lowande family, heads the list and the club has had a notable addition in the Kenyot family, of Hungary, whose ancestors for five generations have seen service in the tan bark rings.

Upon pleasant days, and when time permits, "Happy Jack" Snelling, the boss canvasman erects a canvas marquee near the dressing tent, and here the women gather in close communion and sip tea brewed by themselves.

Many of the performers during the winter season appear at the permanent circuses abroad, but nearly all of them will say, if asked, that they prefer the road, with its discomforts of climatic changes, to their work within the confines of a building. The outdoor life brings with it a healthy activity and a circus community of men, women, children and animals enjoy most their migratory tour under canvas.

The Nicholson Sylvan Players

The coming of the John Nicholson Sylvan Players in three comedy productions on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of this month affords Fort Wayne's summer population an advantage which is being enjoyed by nearly every city in the east in similar form. The idea of the Sylvan or out-door play arose in England a few years since and was introduced in this country by Ben Greet, a noble exponent of Shakespeare and other classicists. Early last winter the Chicago university cast about for a man capable of heading such a company of players during the present summer months and after much sifting, decided upon Mr. Nicholson. He and his company of twenty actors or players, as they must be called to bear out the old English traditions, have been touring the middle west, giving performances at college communities and chautauquas. They have made use of three plays peculiarly fitted for open air production—"The Taming of the Shrew," Rostand's "Les Romanesques," and Moliere's "The Doctor by Compulsion," and great success and appreciation have followed in their train.

Swinney park, where the plays will be presented in Fort Wayne, affords an ideal setting and arrangements have been made for comfortable seating facilities in good view of the grassy stage which is on an elevation, the whole to be enclosed by walls of canvas.

The production should furnish an attractive and instructive mid-summer diversion for all who have to endure the heat of July in town.

THE AUTOMOBILE TIRE

Lecturer Next Tuesday Evening to Show Different Processes in Its Making.

F. M. Tillisch will deliver a lecture next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Majestic theater. It will be illustrated with moving pictures showing the process of making automobile tires, starting with the tapping of the rubber tree, and ending with the complete tire. The pictures and lecture have proven interesting to all, and especially to owners of automobiles. A new film will be exhibited for the time Tuesday night showing the correct method of taking off and putting on an automobile tire.

This lecture met with such hearty approval in the east that Mr. Tillisch was requested by Philadelphians to return and repeat his talk. The tickets for the entertainment are free, and can be obtained from any automobile dealer, or at the theater that evening. The views have been the basis of much favorable comment wherever shown, and the lecture is very instructive and well worth going to hear.

AT THE FAIRY.

Here is a great story of a young man who starts out from the east, a tenderfoot. At Gold Bluff he is given a warm reception, but he makes good by giving the Bad Man of the camp the beating of his life. This starts the story and the friendship of the two men.

They start together for the gold fields, make a stake and think fortune is ahead of them, when they are accused of claim jumping. The Bad Man, thinking to get out of a predicament, takes the accumulated gold and skips, leaving the young easterner to bear the brunt of the accusation of claim jumping, in those days one of the worst crimes a man could commit. The case looks clear and the vigilance committee captures the young easterner and decides to lynch him.

In the meantime the Bad Man hears of his former partner's peril. Though wounded unto death in a saloon brawl, he rides to the scene of the lynching, and with his last breath, says the words which place the blame on himself and restores his old pal to life and freedom.

The Majestic Airdome

Has Another Excellent Vaudeville Bill for Next Week.

The coolest spot in Fort Wayne that so many has been looking for is discovered. It is at the Majestic Airdome and in addition to being the coolest place in the city, the management are offering an excellent list of vaudeville specialties with moving pictures of the latest design. If the last week's audiences are any criterion, the season will prove profitable, as the outdoor theater has been crowded nightly. The moving pictures on the bill which closes this evening are alone worth the price of admission. The bill opens with Elliott and Elliott in a comedy singing and dancing act and is followed by Louis Rashman, an entertaining German comedian; Keit and Demont, the eccentric chauffeurs, and Chas. Carr singing the illustrated song.

The bill for next week is headed by the O'Neil trio, "Dem Minstrel Boys," in an act of rag-time singing and dancing. Eva LaRue, black-face comedienne, and the Mullani trio, in a novel musical act. Illustrated songs and two thousand feet of sensational and comedy film, entitled "Convict 796" and "Where is Mulcahy," will complete the bill. The same policy which made the Airdome famous the past two seasons, of come when you like and stay as long as you like, is proving more popular than ever. The auditorium is always neat and clean and is just the place to spend a pleasant summer evening.
